2006 STATISTICAL REPORT

INTRODUCTION

Since the 2000 edition of the MDOC Statistical Report, bound paper copies have no longer been produced and distributed. Instead, these annual statistical reports are published only on the official MDOC web site on the Internet. The MDOC home page web address is <http://www.michigan.gov/corrections>, and the Statistical Reports are located under the Publications & Information link.

The crime breakdowns in the core tables of the first three sections of the 2006 report regarding felony court dispositions, prison intake, and prison population are all based on the longer 10-character offense codes, as was first shown in the 1999 report. They are also sorted by offense code rather than by crime frequency or maximum term. Since the new sort order keeps sequential offense codes together, similar crimes that have identical maximum penalties are no longer consolidated. This new level of detail provides much richer information than in the past.

However, the additional detail also makes the crime tables much longer; and the reader must be careful to watch for related offense codes when attempting to examine the data for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes now appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B-- ) in each crime table because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Summary narrative reflecting on the Department's observations about what the data show has again been kept to a minimum, as the Department now produces a separate Annual Report for that purpose.

Section Overview

This report is divided into ten major sections (A-J).

- Section A, Court Dispositions, contains data on statewide felony court dispositions broken down by offense, sentencing jurisdiction, and type of disposition.
- Section B, Prison Commitments, provides prison intake data by the number and characteristics of new prisoners received into the Department's institutions and camps.
- Section C, Prisoner Population, presents descriptions of Michigan's correctional facilities and statistics regarding the characteristics of the prisoner population.
- Section D, Parole Board, summarizes data on offender movement to parole and Parole Board activity and decisions, and examines the parole outcomes.
- Section E, Probation and Parole Supervision contains data and information regarding the community supervision programs and functions of the Department's Field Operations Administration (FOA).
- Section F, Department Operations, contains data and information about a variety of Department programs and administrative functions/operations. Section F contains the following subsections:
  - Prisoner Program, Misconduct and Litigation Statistics
  - Bureau of Correctional Industries
  - Health Care Services
  - Department Expenditures and Personnel Summaries
- Section G, Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative (MPRI), was a new section last year and reflects the development of the statewide initiative by several stakeholders, one of whom is MDOC. The first year that prisoners were paroled to the community under this initiative was in 2005.
- Section H, Community Residential Programs contains data regarding corrections centers.
- Section I, Special Alternative Incarceration Program is administered by the Correctional Facilities Administration with Cooper Street Correctional Facility serving administratively as the parent institution.
- Section J, Office of Community Corrections provides data regarding the utilization of community sanctions and services for non-violent offenders in order to reduce admissions to prison.

Court Dispositions

A

This section contains data on statewide felony court dispositions — broken down by offense, sentencing jurisdiction and type of disposition. Offenders may have committed multiple offenses that the felony courts handle as a single court disposition or sentencing event. Both offender-based data and offense-based data have distinct uses that are not interchangeable, therefore, offender-based data is presented in Tables A and A1 through A1c and offense-based data is presented in Tables A2 through A2c.

Tables A and A1 through A1c aggregate multiple offenses and/or disposition (sentencing) dates into offenders. In other words, offenders with multiple offenses and/or multiple dispositions, from the same sentencing county, were reported as follows:

- Offenses/Dispositions for the same offender that occurred three or more months apart were reported as separate disposition events. (It is possible that these separate events were combination events, as discussed in the next bullet.)
- Offenses/Dispositions for the same offender that occurred less than three months apart were aggregated together into one disposition event using the following sequence in order to report the most severe details for the disposition event:
  - The most severe disposition was reported (e.g., a disposition to prison was reported over a disposition to jail).

- If the dispositions were of equal severity, then the disposition with the longest minimum term was reported.

- If the dispositions and minimum terms were of equal severity, then the disposition with the longest maximum term was reported. (Minimum term is used as the first severity tie-breaker, since it represents the minimum penalty imposed by the judge based on the mitigating/aggravating facts of the offender's current criminal activity, whereas the maximum term represents the Legislature's statutory limitations on judicial discretion for the current criminal activity.)

Table A shows the statewide prison commitment rates of offenders for 2006 and the previous fourteen years. Table A no longer provides separate prison commitment rates for offenses involving mandatory sentences to prison and offenses that do not involve mandatory sentences to prison, as PA 665 of 2002 repealed mandatory minimum prison terms for drug offenses.

Table A1 shows the 2006 court dispositions of offenders broken down by disposition type and by sentencing county circuit within each of the three Field Operations Administration (FOA) regions. Tables A1a through A1c show the information in Table A1 broken down by major crime categories (i.e., non-assaultive, drug and assaultive offenses). The A1 series of tables are based on offenders, so multiple offenses/dispositions for the same offender are aggregated and reported per the above sequence.

Table A2 shows the 2006 court dispositions of offenses broken down by disposition type and offense. Tables A2a through A2c show the information in Table A2 broken down by major crime categories (i.e., non-assaultive, drug and assaultive offenses). The A2 series of tables are based on all offenses, so multiple offenses/dispositions for the same offender are reported individually by offense.

The crimes in the A2 series of tables are sorted by Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) numbers and Prosecuting Attorney's Coordinating Council (PACC) codes (the sort order used since 1999). Since this sort order keeps related codes together, similar crimes that have identical maximum penalties are not consolidated. This level of detail provides much richer information, but the reader must be careful to watch for related codes when attempting to examine the frequency and disposition pattern for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B-- ) because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Prison Commitments

B

This section provides data on prison intake—the number and characteristics of new prisoners received into the Department’s institutions and camps.

Tables B1a and B1b exclude one category of intake, called additional sentence imposed. Additional sentence imposed is excluded from these tables because rather than new offenders admitted into the system, these are prisoners who are already incarcerated and then receive an additional sentence, either because of a crime committed while incarcerated or because of later sentencing on a previous pending charge.

All of the other tables and charts in this section include the additional sentence imposed category.

Tables B1a through B1c compare prison intake for 2006 with intake and various other data for past years.

Table B2 shows all 2006 prison intake broken down by minimum sentence and offense. Tables B2a through B2c show the information in Table B2 broken down by major crime categories (i.e., non-assaultive, drug and assaultive). Table B3 shows female intake broken down by minimum sentence and offense.

The crimes in the B2 series of tables and the B3 table are sorted by Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) numbers and Prosecuting Attorney’s Coordinating Council (PACC) codes (the sort order used since 1999). Since this sort order keeps sequential codes together, similar crimes are not consolidated. This level of detail provides much richer information, but the reader must be careful to watch for related codes when attempting to examine the prison intake frequency and minimum term distribution for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes now appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B--) because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Tables B4a through B7 summarize commitments to prison broken down by various other characteristics — including age, race, gender, commitment type, and major crime type.

B1b Reported Index Crimes and Prison Intake (Excluding "Additional Sentence Imposed") Calendar Years 1999 - 2006

State index crime totals are calculated by combining actual figures with estimates of missing data, using an estimation process adapted from that used by the FBI. The MSP's estimation process is designed to help ensure an accurate portrayal of crime trends, and minimize fluctuations due to reporting discrepancies.

Year	Reported Index Crimes* (Estimated)	Prison Intake
1999	429,638	8,809
2000	408,295	8,922
2001	411,078	9,610

*Sentences with Insufficient Information = 55.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

NOTE: Be sure to check for related offense codes when examining a particular type of crime. They may or may not be in sequential order or even on the same page.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

*Sentences with Insufficient Information = 8.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Prisoner Population

This section presents descriptions of Michigan's correctional facilities and statistics regarding the characteristics of the prisoner population.

The map shows the location of each Michigan prison and camp, as well as a geographic breakdown of the Correctional Facilities Administration (CFA) regions. The map is followed by a description of each facility.

Table C is a breakdown of the net operating capacity of the institutions and camps by security level.

Table Ca displays the end-of-year institution and camp population from 1992 through 2006.

Table C1 shows the total prisoner population broken down by minimum sentence and offense. The total population includes prisoners housed in institutions, camps, the SAI-Prison program and Community Residential Programs (CRP). Tables C1a through C1c show the information in Table C1 broken down by major crime categories (i.e., non-assaultive, drug and assaultive). Table C2 shows the total female prisoner population broken down by minimum sentence and offense.

The crimes in the C1 series of tables and the C2 table are sorted by Michigan Compiled Law (MCL) numbers and Prosecuting Attorney's Coordinating Council (PACC) codes (the sort order used since 1999). Since this sort order keeps sequential codes together, similar crimes that have identical maximum penalties are not consolidated. This level of detail provides much richer information, but the reader must be careful to watch for related codes when attempting to examine the prison population frequency and minimum term distribution for a particular type of crime. For example, several separate offense codes now appear for the crime of first degree criminal sexual conduct (750.520B--), because each code represents a specific characteristic of the offense.

Tables C3a through C3c summarize the total prisoner population broken down by age, location and race.

Table C4 summarizes the movement of prisoners into and out of the institution and camp population during 2006. To demonstrate the effect of prisoner movement on the size of the institution and camp population,

Table C4 reports only the movements onto and off of the institution/camp count. In other words, the table ignores movement types that do not affect the total count (e.g., movements between institutions). It also does not show prisoner movements that do not involve prison/camp locations (e.g., prisoner movements to parole from CRP locations).

Table C5 shows the number of escapes from secure DOC custody from 1999 through 2006. The Department recently modernized its coding and reporting of escapes, as is explained in the narrative of Table C5. The modernization was implemented starting with 1999 data, but escape figures since 1996 were recalculated using the new reporting process to provide a trend line based on consistent methodology.

*Sentences with Insufficient Information = 325

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

NOTE: Be sure to check for related offense codes when examining a particular type of crime. They may or may not be in sequential order or even on the same page.

Largest minimum term is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

*Prisoners with Insufficient Information = 9

Largest minimum term for each prisoner is reported.

When minimum terms exceed maximum penalties, that may be due to anomalies in criminal justice practices, habitualized offenses, database errors, etc.

Each minimum term category is rounded up from the preceding category (for example, the ten-year category includes all minimums longer than five years up to exactly ten years).

Minimum term averages are based on raw data (with life sentences excluded from the calculations).

Parole Board

This section summarizes 2006 data on offender movement to parole, and Parole Board activity and decisions. It also examines the parole outcomes of offenders who paroled in 1998-2004.

Table D shows the total number of prisoner movements to parole each year from 1992 through 2006.

Table D1 compares 2006 Parole Board activity and decisions to that of the previous twenty years. Table D1a provides more detail regarding the 2006 activity of the Parole Board.

The D2 and D3 tables in this report are the products of initial work to re-engineer the tracking of offender outcomes following parole. The new effort began with tracking outcomes for a standardized two years (shorter only in the event of return to prison as a failure), as shown in Table D2. This has since been extended to a standardized follow-up period of three years, as shown in Table D3. Both tables show outcomes for several annual parole release cohorts to enable comparisons over time.

These tables represent a change from what was reported on this subject in annual MDOC Statistical Reports prior to 2005; so some explanation is warranted. The genesis of the Michigan Prisoner Reentry Initiative (MRPI) – discussed in Section G – required a re-engineering of the old parole outcomes analysis methodology. The past table format was based on very old computer programming that tracked outcomes only until the parole terms expired. So, there were no controls on time at risk of failure in the tables because parole terms ranged from as short as a couple of months for parole-to-max cases to as long as four years for paroled lifers, while the most common parole terms are 18 to 24 months. Outcomes subsequent to the expiration of the parole terms were not reflected in the data.

The old production analysis that was generated by the data system for parole outcomes also provided only statewide results and could not be analyzed in greater depth than was present in the report tables. As the MPRI began to be planned and implemented, it quickly became apparent that a more robust method of outcome tracking would be needed. And that a bridge to the past would also be needed to enable new annual parole cohorts to be compared to older release years using a consistent methodology.

Calendar year 1998 was established as the baseline parole release year of the analysis for comparison with the outcomes of future annual parole cohorts. Calendar 1998 was selected as the baseline year because it was the most recent year that would provide a full four years of potential follow-up for an entire cohort year before the follow-up periods would reach into calendar year 2003 when the MPRI initiative began.

As can be seen from Tables D2 and D3, the current primary definition of failure continues to be return to prison as either a parole violator technical return or with a new sentence (although the latter can now occur after the parole term expired).

The tables also now show offenders who were on parole absconder status at the end of the follow-up period. While on absconder status, parolees are obviously not succeeding at that point; but it is also important to note that they are not automatically headed back to prison. The determining factor in the disposition of a parole absconder is an assessment of offender risk. When risk is determined to be low (such as when an absconder is still employed and generally following parole rules, but failed to report), then the parole agent may continue to work with the case and impose local sanctions, possibly increase supervision of the case, and engage the community in service delivery designed to intervene in the behavior that led to the abscond and enable the absconder to become a successful parolee.

In the future, the Department will be working to gather data to expand the outcomes definition to include additional measures of re-offending such as arrests and convictions.

Probation and Parole Supervision

E

This section contains data and information regarding the supervision programs for probationers and parolees within the Department's Field Operations Administration (FOA).

The Field Operations Administration (FOA) is responsible for the supervision of all adult felons on probation and parole. Selected parolees and probationers are also supervised on electronic monitoring.

In addition, the FOA is responsible for administration and operation of the Department's technical rule violator (TRV) center for parolees and FOA prisoners, residential programs for selected parolees and probationers, and offenders sentenced to supervision under the Holmes Youthful Trainee Act.

Tuscola Residential ReEntry Program (PTR) – The former corrections Camp Tuscola, which closed in June, 2005, reopened as the state's first parolee residential ReEntry Program facility on November 2, 2006 with 40 parolees in the new program. The facility can handle 160 residents at full capacity. The program assists parolees with housing, employment, substance abuse treatment, and other adjustment problems. It falls under the umbrella of the Michigan Prison ReEntry Program (MPRI), a collaborative effort between the Michigan Department of Corrections and the departments of Community Health, Labor and Economic Growth and Human Services, and numerous community partners.

Field operations are administered through Regional and Area offices (see map). Region I is Wayne County; Region II is roughly the southeastern portion of the lower peninsula, except for Wayne County; and Region III is the rest of the lower peninsula and all of the upper peninsula.

Table E1 shows the number of parolees returned to prison for technical violations and new sentences, broken down by gender and year. Table E1 also shows the number of parole revocation hearings held each year.

Table E2 presents breakdowns of Field Operations personnel by type of offender supervised and by employee job classification. Table E2 also displays a breakdown of Field Operations funds by type of offender supervised.

Table E3 shows the distribution of investigations conducted by type, and a breakdown of the average number of offenders supervised by type. Workloads in 2006 remained constant from the previous year. The average agent workload was 104.0 to 1 in 2006.

Table E4 displays the number of pre-sentence investigations conducted each year for the last ten years.

Tables E5 and E6 show the average number of parolees and probationers under supervision for the last ten years.

Supervision is the process in which parole or probation agents work with offenders who are under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections (parole) or the jurisdiction of the Courts (probation, Holmes Youthful Trainee, and delayed sentences). ## Prisoner Program, Misconduct and Litigation Statistics

Table F1 provides statistics regarding prisoner participation in religious services broken down by faith preference.

The number of prisoners enrolled in academic and vocational programs is represented in Table F2. The education statistical reporting format was revised in 2005. The year-to-date (YTD) figures represent cumulative totals for FY 2005-06, while the enrollment figures are based on numbers enrolled during the month of September 2006.

Table F3 shows the number and disposition of misconduct charges, by location, that were issued against prisoners in 2006.

Table F4 is a summary of the number of lawsuits filed against the Department, by category and year (2003-2006).

F1 2006 Prisoner Faith Preferences

This table represents the number of approved religions in the MDOC facilities and the number of prisoners claiming each as their religious preference.

This section presents charts regarding the cost of health care services for prisoners. Services are provided by the Bureau of Health Care Services. The Bureau has two main goals:

- Provide cost-effective care.
- Provide quality care

Charts F8 through F10 summarize the Department's prisoner health care costs.

- Chart F8 shows health care costs since the implementation of managed care for prisoners in FY 1997. Further, F8 distinguishes between medical, dental and psychological services provided or controlled directly by the Department of Corrections versus mental health care costs provided directly by the Department of Community Health (DCH) for prisoners with serious mental illness.

- The F9 chart shows a detailed breakdown of the trend of prisoner health care costs since FY 1997 under direct control of the Department of Corrections, (i.e. excluding the DCH costs).
- Chart F10 provides the Consent Decree Health Care expenditures for FY 2005 through FY 2006.

Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative

The Michigan Prisoner ReEntry Initiative (MPRI), implemented in the summer of 2005, is a statewide initiative, spearheaded by the Governor and supported by various state departments, local elected officials, and faith-based and community-based organizations in partnership with the Michigan Department of Corrections.

The VISION of the MPRI is that every inmate released from prison will have the tools needed to succeed in the community.

The MISSION of the MPRI is to reduce crime by implementing a seamless plan of services and supervision developed with each offender—delivered through state and local collaboration—from the time the offender enters prison through the offender's transition, reintegration, and aftercare in the community.

The GOALS of the MPRI are to:

- Promote public safety by reducing the threat of harm to persons and their property by released offenders in the communities to which those offenders return.
- Increase success rates of offenders who transition from prison by fostering effective risk management and treatment programming, offender accountability, and community and victim participation.

THE THREE-PHASE, SEVEN-DECISION-POINT MPRI MODEL

The MPRI Model involves improved decision making at seven critical decision points in the three phases of the custody, release, and community supervision/discharge process.

PHASE ONE – GETTING READY

The institutional phase describes the details of events and responsibilities which occur during the offender's imprisonment from admission until the point of the parole decision and involves the first two major decision points:

- 1. Assessment and classification: Measuring the offender's risks, needs, and strengths.
- 2. Inmate programming: Assignments to reduce risk, address need, and build on strengths.

PHASE TWO – GOING HOME

The transition to the community or re-entry phase begins approximately six months before the offender's target release date. In this phase, highly specific re-entry plans are organized that address housing, employment, and services to address addiction and mental illness. Phase Two involves the next two major decision points.

- 3. Inmate release preparation: Developing a strong, public-safety-conscious parole plan.
- 4. Released decision making: Improving parole release guidelines.

PHASE THREE – STAYING HOME

The community and discharge phase begins when the inmate is released from prison and continues until discharge from community parole supervision. In this phase, it is the responsibility of the former inmate, human services providers, and the offender's network of community supports and mentors to assure continued success. Phase Three involves the final three major decision points of the transition process:

- 5. Supervision and services: Providing flexible and firm supervision and services.
- 6. Revocation decision making: Using graduated sanctions to respond to behavior.
- 7. Discharge and aftercare: Determining community responsibility to "take over" the case.

The maps on pages G - 3 and G - 4 show the first round of eight pilot sites consisting of 18 counties, and the second round adding seven more counties. The last round will bring all remaining counties onboard. Also, the maps show the counties to which the in-reach facilities will be releasing parolees. For each county or group of counties, a community coordinator was hired to seek community input in the development of a local Comprehensive Prisoner ReEntry Plan to help prepare each community for the re-entry of prisoners into their communities.

The key to the MPRI Model is the development and use of Transition Accountability Plans (TAP) at critical phases in the prisoner transition process. The TAPs succinctly describe exactly what is expected for a successful reentry process as illustrated by chart G1.

Institutional Parole Agents begin the process of case management and TAP development. The TAP process begins soon after offenders enter prison.

The objective of the TAP process is to develop a seamless system of programming and service delivery ensuring that upon the prisoner's return to the community, appointments for needed services and 'real world' needs are met. Examples of these needs include:

- mental health treatment;
- substance abuse treatment;
- housing;
- financial assistance;
- identification documents;
- transportation;
- employment or vocational training; and
- family reunification and support, when appropriate.

TRACKING MPRI OUTCOMES

The follow up of MPRI-related offenders who are released to the community is being done by systematically tracking individual offender release cohorts since the MPRI is being implemented in stages to build toward the full MPRI Model. For example, the Intensive ReEntry Units (IRU's) that were implemented in 2005 are actually "precursors" to the MPRI because while they serve as a testing ground for some MPRI practices, they have not implemented the full MPRI Model.

Similarly, the activity for the first and second rounds of official MPRI pilot sites is concentrated on Phases II and III of the MPRI Model because the new, dynamic risk/needs assessment instrument (COMPAS) that is the linchpin of Phase I at the point of reception into prison has not been implemented at the reception and guidance centers yet, although it is in the development stage. COMPAS is being used to develop TAPs at each In-Reach Facility to inform community-based planning. Thus, as each cohort of MPRI-related cases transitions to parole with the escalating benefit of the MPRI Model in place, it is expected that progressively improving recidivism outcomes will be apparent.

In recognition of variable failure rates among offenders with different characteristics, and in light of the fact that the prisoners chosen for the MPRI by the Parole Board tend to be moderate to high risk for re-offense, the Office of Research and Planning has now developed matched comparisons, rather than just continuing to compare all cases to the overall baseline. While this complicated undertaking will continue to be refined, Office of Research and Planning analysts have already determined that the two most significant factors identified so far in the differentiation between parole outcomes are a history of previous return to prison as a parole violator and county of release.

In the case of county of release, the differentiation is likely driven by local prosecutorial charging and plea bargaining practices as well as local issues such as economic/employment and housing prospects within depressed areas. The formal MPRI evaluation will eventually include examination of local community dynamics such as these.

In the case of history of prior parole failure, supplementary analysis of the 1998 baseline recidivism data shows that parolees who have a history of being returned to prison as parole violators (for either technical violations or new sentences) have a 24% greater likelihood of again failing on parole when next released, compared to parolees with no prior history of parole failure. This is consistent with the risk principle, wherein if the risk, needs and strengths of past violators are not adequately addressed before again returning them to the community, then more often than not they will continue to fail until something changes. This repetitive cycle of misbehavior is precisely what the MPRI is designed to stop – via its features of dynamic risk assessment, transition accountability planning, program intervention and community in-reach in advance of the next release.

As proof of performance that the MPRI is targeting offenders who are otherwise likely to fail on parole, 78.8% of the MPRI and IRU cases paroled through November of 2006 had a history of prior parole failure, while only 34.5% of the 1998 baseline paroles had a history of prior parole failure. Thus, when controlling for history of prior parole failure the overall MPRI/IRU recidivism outcomes through November of 2006 (across all of the release cohorts as a group) showed a 21% improvement in total returns to prison against the 1998 baseline.

Table G2 shows the more detailed status and recidivism levels of the first six offender release cohorts as of the end of November 2006. It is important to recognize that adequate follow-up time must pass before reliable recidivism outcomes can be established, since relatively few offenders are returned to prison during the first several months following release. The first IRU case paroled in 2005 will not have finished two years of follow up until late in February 2007.

Table G3 shows the principal crimes for which sentences were being served among those offenders transitioned to parole (or discharged) so far from the first offender release cohorts. Sentences for drug and other nonassaultive crimes are understandably the most common for these initial offender release cohorts. After successes are achieved and parole board confidence in positive outcomes is increased, it is anticipated that the mix of offenses will gradually include a higher proportion of assaultive cases.

Community Residential Programs

This section contains data regarding Community Residential Programs (CRP).

CRP is a very old program within the Department that has changed over time. Many offenders were housed in over a dozen corrections centers while others, when not working or in treatment programs, were under house arrest or electronic monitoring. The Department now has only one remaining corrections center located in Grand Rapids.

Table H1 shows the end-of-year CRP prisoner population from 1997 through 2006. The decreases in the CRP population were due primarily to:

- The CRP zero tolerance escape policy which was implemented on September 1, 1993.
- Truth-in-Sentencing legislation (effective December 15, 1998) which requires incarceration in secure prisons and camps throughout the minimum sentences for affected prisoners.

Table H2 provides information regarding movement to and termination from Community Residential Programs during 2006.

Table H3 shows the end-of-year electronic monitoring population from 2001 through 2006, broken down by type of offender.

Table H4 presents information regarding the CRP zero tolerance escape policy for years 1995 through 2006.

H4 Zero Tolerance Escape Policy 1995 - 2006 Community Residential Programs

- Zero tolerance escape policy was implemented on September 1, 1993 to strengthen monitoring and accountability of prisoners in community programs.
- Under the policy, prisoners must adhere to preset daily schedules which determine their whereabouts at specific times. Any violations of the schedules without mitigating circumstances are considered escapes, and immediate steps are taken to apprehend and return the prisoners to an institution.
- Zero tolerance CRP escapes increased sharply at first while prisoners got used to the policy, but the number of CRP escapes subsequently declined over the years. In the most recent years the decline in CRP escape numbers has also reflected the drop in CRP population, resulting from the Truth-in-Sentencing law, which prohibits CRP placement for affected prisoners until after the full minimum sentence has been served.

Special Alternative Incarceration Program

This section describes offenders committed to Camp Cassidy Lake, the Special Alternative Incarceration (SAI) boot camp program for prisoners and probationers. SAI is a two-phase program.

Phase I, patterned after military basic training, involves physical fitness and programming (education, substance abuse awareness, basic life skills and counseling).

Phase II is an optional residential placement in the community while on parole or probation.

In 2003, Phase III, the intensive parole or probation supervision in the community, was replaced with regular community supervision. FTE's and funding previously under Phase III are now included in Field Supervision.

The program's objectives are to end criminal behavior by developing offender self-esteem and self-discipline, a sense of individual responsibility and a positive work ethic.

Data regarding SAI prisoner and probationer intake is provided in Tables I1, I2 and I3. SAI Phase I program performance and post-program outcomes are summarized in Tables I4 through I7. Additional information about the SAI program (such as the offender eligibility criteria) is available in a separate annual report.

Effective June 2004, the responsibility for the SAI program transferred from the Field Operations Administration to the Correctional Facilities Administration with Cooper Street Correctional Facility serving administratively as parent institution.

This section provides data on the Office of Community Corrections (OCC).

OCC works with local units of government and criminal justice professionals to implement Michigan's Community Corrections Act. The purpose of the Act is to increase the range and utilization of community sanctions and services for non-violent offenders in order to reduce admissions to prison. The OCC implements program policies, guidelines and standards, and provides technical assistance to local units of government to develop and implement locally-developed comprehensive corrections plans. These plans outline criminal justice problems and how policies and practices and P.A. 511 funds will address them.

Local governments voluntarily participate in the implementation of the Act through forming Community Corrections Advisory Boards (CCABs) which have responsibilities for developing comprehensive corrections plans. The plans establish the framework for applications for funds. Since 1989, 80 counties across the state have elected to participate in implementation of the Act through the formulation of single-county, multi-county and county-city Community Corrections Advisory Boards. Fiscal Year 2006 funds were awarded to support the implementation or continued operation of community-based sanctions and services in 72 counties.

During FY 2006, $12,517,205 was awarded for comprehensive corrections plans and services, $16,925,50 for probation residential services, and $2,080,900 for the drunk driver jail reduction and community treatment program.

The OCC continued to work with local agencies to upgrade criminal justice information systems and to facilitate data sharing and the development of integrated information systems in FY 2006. This included efforts to integrate information from jails, courts, probation, service providers and local community corrections agencies. The goals are to reduce redundancy in data entry, improve the quality of the data available at local and state levels, improve communication among agencies and improve the efficiency of criminal justice decision making.

The number of new enrollees in community corrections programs during FY 2006 was 52,305. Table J1 shows the number of offenders determined eligible and enrolled in programs by crime class and legal status. Table J2 shows the award of comprehensive plans and services funds by program category. Table J3 illustrates the authorized and actual utilization of probation residential services.
