

GR2030 ZERO NET ENERGY SERIES:

Harnessing Building Controls

Want to know the latest and greatest in building controls?
We've got you covered.

During this session you'll hear from a panel of experts on how and why managing existing systems is sometimes smarter than replacing them. You'll gain a deeper understanding of how a smart building can lead to deep energy savings and a higher level of comfort for occupants. By the end of this discussion you'll know which smart technologies will enhance the control of your buildings, and why they should be included in your building upgrades.

Smart technology is the way of the future -- you don't want to miss this event!
