The 2015 National Alcohol Beverage Control Association (NABCA) educational award is used by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission (MLCC) to fund education projects across the state. Ideas include, but are not limited to: Awareness of laws and regulations; development and dissemination of educational materials, including handouts to the state's 17,000 liquor licensees, and radio PSAs to stations across Michigan. multi-agency coordination and collaboration; responsible retail licensee initiatives.	$ 10,000
The MLCC creates a hands-on prevention program exemplifying the risks of the misuse of alcohol. The Commission purchased equipment, developed, and launched a program that demonstrates the effects of alcohol and how it impairs mobility through products developed by Innocorp, Ltd., a company recognized by advocacy groups, law enforcement, and schools in more than 60 countries. Innocorp offers realistic simulation equipment which provides the ability to simulate different impairment levels. Specifically, the following two products are the center of the MLCC program: (1) Fatal Vision® impairment simulation goggles that simulate the effects of six distinctly different Blood Alcohol Concentration (B.A.C.) impairment levels on a subject's ability to perform simple physical tasks while wearing the goggles. (2) SIDNE® (Simulated Impaired Driving Experience) shows the dramatic consequences of a slight delay in a driver's ability to steer, brake, and accelerate a vehicle. An impaired driver's delayed reactions dramatically impact their ability to safely operate a vehicle.	$ 25,000
