Center for Police/Fire Management and Leadership Studies

The Criminal Justice Training Center will be hosting the Center for Police/Fire Management and Leadership Studies Program, beginning January 8, 2020. The Center for Police/Fire Management and Leadership Studies Program is an executive-level training program designed for law enforcement and fire service personnel intent on earning the highest ranks in their department and those who have already achieved them.

Approximately 120 contact hours will be required and divided among upper-level management topics including budgeting, labor/management issues, personnel management, legal issues, and media relations. The emphasis of the Program is on practical exercises that provide a working knowledge of the administrative function within law enforcement and fire service agencies. Presenters include MACNLOW Associates, Dolan Consulting Group, Lt. Col. Dave Grossman, U.S. Army (Ret.), and local subject matter experts.

MCOLES APPROVED for 302 FUNDING

Topics Include:

- Budgeting
- Emotional Survival for First Responders
- Staff Study
- Effective Keys to Leadership and Employee Coaching
- Media Relations
- Managing Generational Differences
- Supervisor Liability
- Confronting the Toxic Employee
- Ethics

The program will be conducted on Wednesdays for 15 weeks, concluding on April 22, 2020, with an executive level panel discussion and graduation ceremony. There will be no class on April 15, 2020. College credits are available to participants, should they seek these. DEADLINE TO REGISTER IS DECEMBER 18, 2019.
