The Unemployment Insurance Appeals Commission (Commission) has scheduled a hearing in this matter for:

TIME: 10:00 a.m.

DATE: May 5, 2021

PLACE: Zoom - credentials to follow under separate cover

The first case referenced above is before the Commission pursuant to the claimant's timely appeal from a December 8, 2020 decision issued by an Administrative Law Judge, which affirmed the Unemployment Insurance Agency's October 16, 2020 redetermination and found the claimant ineligible for benefits under the ability provision in Section 28(1)(c) of the Michigan Employment Security Act, indefinitely, beginning June 28, 2020.

The second case referenced above is before the Commission pursuant to the claimant's timely appeal from a February 3, 2021 decision issued by an Administrative Law Judge, which affirmed the Unemployment Insurance Agency's November 13, 2020 redetermination and found the claimant ineligible for benefits under the availability provision in Section 28(1)(c) of the Michigan Employment Security Act, indefinitely, beginning March 22, 2020.

The purpose of this hearing is to fully explore the issues involved in this case, particularly those raised in the claimant's written argument.
