WHAT IS WORK SHARE?
During this global pandemic, we know that many Michigan businesses are faced with extremely difficult choices to make when it comes to their workforce. You may be struggling to reopen your business and reengage your employees. However, with Work Share, you may not have to.

Michigan’s Work Share program allows employers to restart their business and bring employees back from unemployment. Employers can bring employees back with reduced hours - while employees collect partial unemployment benefits to make up a portion of the lost wages. Employers can also retain their current workforce and are given the flexibility to choose which of their employees are part of a Work Share plan.

HOW DOES IT WORK?
With the Work Share program, a worker receives a reduced salary from an employer, but is given a percent their state benefits plus the additional $600 federal benefit through July. The reduction in work hours must result in an equivalent reduction in wages.

Example: If a worker’s weekly wages are $1,000, yet the employer needs to reduce their salary/hours by 30%. Under Work Share, their weekly salary would be $700.00 ($1,000 – 30% = $700). Plus 30% of their state unemployment benefits ($362 maximum x .30 = $108), plus an additional $600 federal payment through July.

With Work Share, the employee would earn $1,408/week through July 2020 vs. $962 without Work Share.

As businesses are reopened, Work Share can help employers bring back their employees from unemployment faster and allows employers to retain their workforce and avoid layoffs.

RESTARTING BUSINESS EXAMPLE
AVERAGE SALARY of $52,000 ($1,000/week)

Employer wants to bring back 100 employees that were laid off and on unemployment to restart the business at 70% capacity for 12 weeks

> Employee is receiving $1,000/week and then is retained to work under a 30% reduction in wages and hours.

> Under Work Share: $700/week in salary + 30% of state unemployment benefits ($362 maximum x .30 = $108.60) + $600 federal benefit through July.

Employee Weekly Salary

> With Work Share: $1,408 through July 2020

> Laid off/on unemployment: $962 maximum through July 2020

Under the federal CARES Act, employees that receive a percent of Michigan unemployment benefits (including Work Share) also receive the weekly $600 federal benefit through July 2020.
