Course Title:Leading Without Rank*Course ID:*Description:

The belief that you must have rank to lead and influence is a myth that has hindered our profession for decades

Traditional leadership programs have historically focused on those who have been promoted but what about those who have not

Some of the most effective leaders in law enforcement do not have brass on their collars or stripes on their sleeves

Leading Without Rank was designed to inspire officers to seek out leadership opportunities within their shifts units and special projects

Course Title:Legally Justified But Was It Avoidable*Course ID:*Description:

The 1989 Graham v. Connor case established that the moment an officer uses force is all that matters when determining if it was reasonable. It determined the moment could not be judged with the 20/20 vision of hindsight. How that moment came to be matters not, only what was happening during it. We should look backward from the moment force was used and assess whether the officer, by action or lack of action, contributed to its ultimate need.

Description: Life happens. Bad things happen. For this reason, we need to train for when things aren't all rainbows and kittens. When Things Go Bad is built around the fact that in a defensive situation, we may lose the ability to employ the perfect shooting techniques or have the support of both hands by injury or need. This class is designed to prepare the student to keep their handgun up and running regardless of the situation.
