Course Title: How to Predict Violence and Influence Outcomes
Course ID:
Description: The vast majority of attacks on officers begin with communication: They Tell You it's Coming.
If you can predict it, you can prevent.
Stopping violence before it starts is a learnable and necessary skill. Too often, officers are reactive to aggression rather than predictive. Preparing for a violent encounter requires that you quickly and accurately identify behaviors that indicate vicious intent. If done effectively, you have the power to influence outcomes.
