Why A Training On Hate Crime?

MDCR understands that effective responses to hate crimes must be systematic, coordinated and generated from the local community. Therefore, local community leaders and service providers must understand how to recognize and best respond to hate crime .

By training and working with local leaders, the Michigan Alliance Against Hate Crime (MIAAHC) hopes to create a statewide coordinated network that works to prevent and effectively respond to hate activity.

Hate Crime 101

Hate Crime 101 is a two-hour training designed to assist crime victim service providers and law enforcement to better understand how to define and respond to bias incidents. Participants will specifically learn the definition of a hate crime and how to use available resources, including hate crime laws, to respond effectively within the community.

Training Objectives

As a result of attending this training, participants will:

- ✓ Learn how to identify a hate crime
- ✓ Understand how hate crimes are different from other crimes
- ✓ Understand the importance of hate crime laws and how to use them
- ✓ Understand how to use available resources to combat hate crime

Training Agenda

- ✓ Opening / Introduction
- ✓ Data on Crimes in Michigan
- ✓ Key Definitions
- ✓ Elements of a Hate Crime
- ✓ Effects on Victims
- ✓ State and Federal Laws
