2019 - 2020

OVERVIEW

In 1952, Michigan was among the first states to create a coordinated teacher recognition program. Now, more than a half century later, the Michigan Department of Education's (MDE) program continues to recognize educators who have shown dedication to the profession, as evidenced by their commitment to their students and track record of leadership to their colleagues – both in their schools and throughout the state. More information about the Regional Teacher of the Year and Michigan Teacher of the Year programs and the Teacher Leadership Advisory Council, can be found below.

Regional Teacher of the Year

The selection process begins during the fall of each year with a statewide call for nominations. Nominees who meet the eligibility requirements are then invited to formally apply for the award through a multi-level competitive process. One applicant from each of MDE's 10 designated regions (see page 2) is then selected by a panel of reviewers to be honored as a Regional Teacher of the Year (RTOY).

Michigan Teacher of the Year

Once announced, each of the RTOYs participate in an in-person interview with a panel of judges to vie for the Michigan Teacher of the Year (MTOY) honors. The panel scores each of the candidates and determines the year's winner. The MTOY serves as an advocate and spokesperson for Michigan's more than 100,000 teachers at both the state and national level and is also Michigan's candidate for the prestigious National Teacher of the Year award.

Michigan Teacher Leadership Advisory Council

Together, the 10 RTOYs (inclusive of the MTOY) form the Michigan Teacher Leadership Advisory Council (MTLAC). The group's mission is to share issues of importance to educators and students with MDE, while also providing needed input on proposed department policies and initiatives. During their year of service, MTLAC members contribute feedback to MDE through monthly virtual meetings and quarterly face-to-face meetings, sharing best practices and concerns from educators throughout their respective regions with MDE staff.

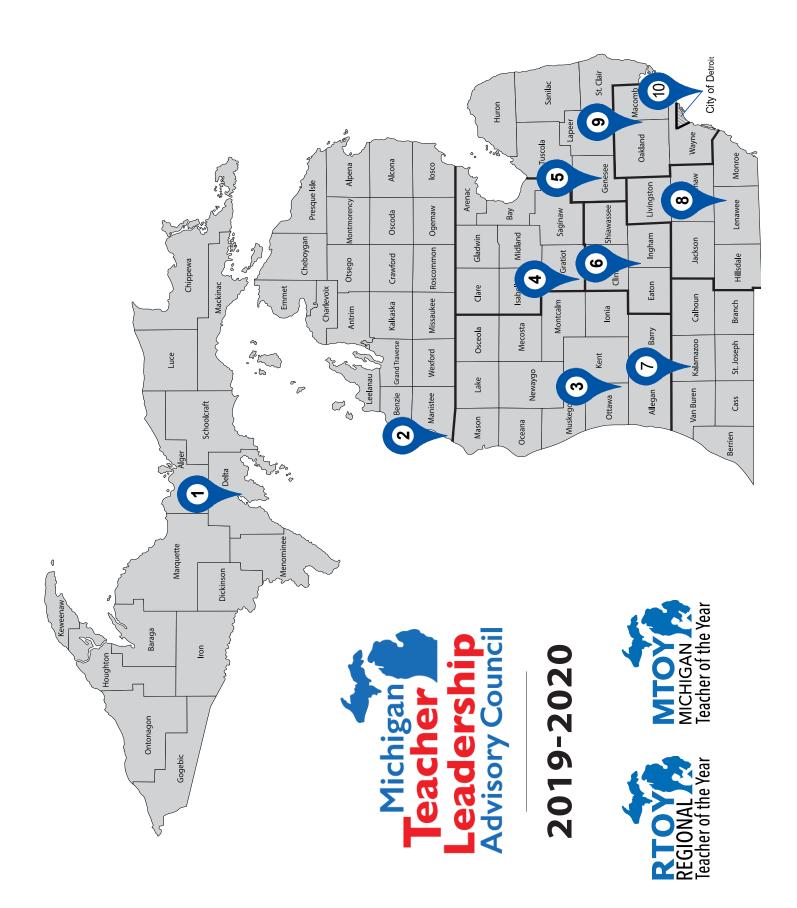

To learn more about the RTOY, MTOY and MTLAC, as well as MDE's other educator recognition programs, please visit: bit.ly/MDE_Recognition or contact Jennifer Robel at robelj@michigan.gov.

Program expenses for the Michigan Teacher of the Year and Regional Teacher of the Year programs, as well as the Michigan Teacher Leadership Advisory Council are covered through a generous partnership with Meemic.

DOUGLAS DUNCAN

Region 7 Teacher of the Year

ART · PRAIRIE RIDGE & INDIAN PRAIRIE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

BIO

Douglas Duncan has taught art to students in the Kalamazoo Public School District for 18 years, where he is currently working with elementary students at Prairie Ridge and Indian Prairie. While teaching is a second career for Douglas, who was a successful graphic artist for 15 years before becoming an educator, it is his calling. A skilled artist turned Master Teacher, Douglas earned National Board Certification in 2009.

Douglas is trained in both Visual Thinking Strategies and Aesthetic Arts Education, which provides many opportunities for his students to meet with and experience the work of professional artists. He has also served as a mentor to many in art education, presenting at multiple conferences, and coaching 16 Western Michigan University intern teachers and more than 30 pre-intern teachers. Douglas also coordinates an annual Empty Bowls event to help raise funds and awareness about food scarcity in his school and community.

Region 7 includes all schools in Berrien, Branch, Calhoun, Cass, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph and Van Buren counties.
