Efforts to Improve Early Literacy Achievement

Building Mirrors and Windows: Children Seeing Themselves and Others in the Literature That We Teach Conference

-  Thursday, February 25, 2021
-  More than 1,900 educators attended
-  Keynote speaker Dr. Gholdy Muhammad; author of Cultivating Genius
-  Breakout sessions hosted by Michigan educators

 The conference was a tremendous success and inspiring to all who attended!

Efforts to Improve Early Literacy Achievement

- Michigan Celebrates African American History Month with Literature
 - Included four week-long calendars in February
 - Recognized seven African American authors and their literary works each week (28 in the month)
 - Nominations submitted by educators along with how the literary work was used with students

- Diverse text improves student engagement as students see themselves (mirrors), see others (windows), and enter the world presented in the literature (sliding glass doors).

Additional Efforts to Improve Early Literacy Achievement

Commitment to Essential Instructional Literacy Practices

-  The Literacy Essentials provide a suite of research-proven, effective approaches to improve literacy skills for students in Michigan
-  Educator training
-  Literacy Coaching Network

Guidance on Early Literacy Assessment Systems

Support districts to implement the Read by Grade Three law

-  Updates and information through memoranda, toolkits, and sample materials

Support family engagement in literacy
