

SARAH SOPER

Region 8 Teacher of the Year

NORTHWEST HIGH SCHOOL

BIO

Sarah Soper is an English teacher at Northwest High School in Jackson where she has taught for her entire 15-year career. Within her school community, Sarah is active as a Link Crew advisor, English department chair, and as a member of the School Improvement Team. Outside of her school, Sarah is largely involved in the Advanced Placement Community, including presenting at Advanced Placement Conferences and grading thousands of essays as an Advanced Placement reader. She also writes for the blogs AP Lit Help and #Teachlivingpoets. Sarah has presented at multiple conferences, including co-presenting a #Teachlivingpoets session at the National Council of Teachers of English Annual Convention, and has taught English coursework at Baker College. Sarah has also attended Nerd Camp Michigan for many years and is passionate about choice reading and getting high school students to like reading again!
