Urgent Care vs. Emergency Room Resource

We are excited to share a resource produced by the University of Michigan Health System recently that discusses the difference between the urgent care and emergency room usage, and when a patient should choose to visit one over the other. Our PCMH Initiative participants may find this useful when considering talking points with patients, or even for the development of patient education materials related to seeking alternative care outside of their practice setting.

Have a need for other tools like this one? Do you have a tool you'd be willing to share? Please email suggestions/examples to MDHHS-SIMPCMH@michigan.gov with "Tool Idea" in the subject line.
