SECTION III WORK STATEMENT

A. Brief Description of Work

Vendor will work with MSP to provide an application design that meets and exceeds MSP's requirements for the current records management system. Vendor will collaborate with MSP staff to complete a full set of business requirements. The vendor will attempt to maintain all the existing functionality and requirements as detailed in the Business Requirements and Database Schema, changes and modifications required to enhance functionality and "look" will be the sole discretion of MSP prior to completion of the design development. Vendor will provide user interface mockups, related business rules, data elements, and the record management data model. Vendor will work with MSP to capture and integrate stakeholder feedback regarding the design of the different modules for the record management system.

- Deliverables will be provided within the timelines specified. Any changes to the delivery timelines must have prior approval (in writing) by the MSP CJIC Director and DTMB Client Services Director.
- All deliverables will be submitted in a format approved by MSP. At a minimum, the vendor will provide design documentation of the ongoing design efforts as it relates to this project - unless otherwise stipulated.
- All written deliverables will be phrased in terms and language that can be easily understood by non-technical personnel. (e.g., laypersons without subject matter expertise)
- MSP will complete a review of each submitted deliverable through an online meeting session.
- If the deliverable cannot be provided within the scheduled time frame, the vendor is required to contact MSP Project Manager in writing with a reason for the delay and the proposed revised schedule. The request for a revised schedule must include the impact on related tasks and the overall project. MSP will also be made aware of any delays to the completion of the overall project.
- A request for a revised schedule must be reviewed and approved by the MSP CJIC Director, DTMB Client Services Director and MSP Project Manager before placed in effect.

The specific SOW Deliverables are:

(Note: All of the below deliverables will be documented by the vendor and provided to MSP)

- Conduct Design Review Sessions
- Update existing MSP Business Requirements for the new records management system
- Provide MSP with Detailed Design Documents and Corresponding Data Model Documents
- Define data access layer for Oracle Database
- Identify integration points within records management system modules
- Create Screen/User Interface mock-ups of all records management system Modules and Tabs
- Design records management system integration with exposed API interfaces for all MSP current and potential future electronic applications.
- Develop Detailed Project Plan and Timeline for Development of the new records management system.
- Ensure the new records management system design conforms to and meets identified Business Requirements

SCOPE OF WORK:

The following are in scope:

- Design of a new records management system software application
- Customization of the new records management system
- Business and Functional requirements
- Provide User Interface mockups
- Design and Plan for automated testing

B. Background on the work requested

Current record management system is nearing the end of its lifecycle, is no longer supported by vendor and does meet mandated CJIS security guidelines. Enhancement to current records management is not cost effective. The current records management system does not meet the future needs of MSP.

C. Objectives

The initial task of this project will be to gather all the business requirements. All project managers and stakeholders will work together to determine the requirements for the new records management system. During this task we will, determine the required functionality of the system, design the Data Access Layer for existing data within the Database, develop the business logic that processes data validation and determine how the user interface will work. These requirements will be translated into the Design of the new records management system; the vendor will work with MSP to determine the overall detailed design of the system and establish the interface with the existing and any future electronic applications and or systems. Essentially the business requirements will dictate what functions will be developed in the coding phase of the project. With this information, required, resources can be determined to develop a schedule and cost/resource estimate for new records management system development. Completion of the restart will provide MSP detailed Design documents and a corresponding Data Model document that includes the entire design specifications, including user interface design, report design, data element listing, and detailed business rules and validations for each of the record management module components to be developed, including: timelines for development.

During this process of the new records management software development, the vendor will work with MSP to hold a minimum of three (3) design review sessions with identified stakeholders to discuss the proposed design of the system. The vendor will work with MSP during these design review sessions to introduce and discuss user interface mockups, related business rules, data elements, and the new records management data model. The vendor will work with MSP to capture and integrate stakeholder feedback regarding the design of the different modules for the new records management system. The vendor must have extensive experience and qualifications conducting design review sessions, creating design specifications, and generating data model documentation. The vendor must ensure the comprehensive and successful completion of this phase and all associated deliverables.

D. MSP technical environment for the work

- Depending on the nature of the task, the MSP Project Manager will provide system access for on-site and off-site work - in accordance with established SOM's policies, standards, regulations, and rules of conduct
- Whenever possible, conference calls and video conferencing (when available and cost effective) should be used.
- Network Constraints – The network must have enough bandwidth to support the traffic flowing in and out of the system.
- Project Technology Constraints –the new records management system is expected to run on the hardware, operating systems and database platforms that comply to eApplications currently in use with MSP. Minimum requirements for basic functionality:
 - Hardware
 - 1 gigahertz (GHz) or faster processor
 - At least 512 megabytes (MB) of RAM (1 GB is recommended)
 - At least 150 megabytes (MB) of available space on the hard disk
 - USB port, CD-ROM or DVD-ROM drive
 - Keyboard and a Microsoft Mouse or some other compatible pointing device
 - Video adapter and monitor with Super VGA (800 x 600) or higher resolution.
 - Sound card
 - Speakers
 - Software
