"The students really enjoyed learning about the concept of safety, and we were able to have some great group discussions! I like that the program touched on types of weather not typically encountered in Michigan; it allowed the students to get an understanding of dangers that children their own age might face in other states/countries/continents."

-Maria Reuter, Hamilton-Parsons Elementary

"The students were interested in the program due to the relevance and importance. They enjoyed the youtube videos and had great group discussions pertaining to the material. I believe they feel as though they can make a difference in an emergency situation because they have more knowledge regarding a variety of situations."

-Jessica Neboyskey, Jackman Road Elementary
