GET READY FOR COLLEGE

You may be receiving a lot of advice about your future – advice from your parents, relatives, or from your school counselor. Whether your goal is to attend a state university, community college, local technical school, private college, or if it is still undecided, you will need to decide about your future goals while in high school.

For more information on advanced and alternative learning possibilities, visit the Michigan Department of Education’s (MDE) Web site at www.michigan.gov/mde and click on Career and College Ready. Also, visit the Michigan e-Library for college preparation information at www.mel.org and then click on the Teens tab.

The Michigan Merit Curriculum (MME), high school graduation requirements are found on MDE’s Web site at www.michigan.gov/mde. Click on the Career & College Ready tab, and then the Michigan Merit Curriculum.

Having the dream to go to college is not enough. Each school, college, or university has different admissions requirements so you need to check the policy for each one. Most four-year colleges and universities require you to take at least one college admissions test as part of your college application process. These tests are prepared by national organizations and are given several times each year at many locations. The two most common tests are the ACT® and the SAT®. ACT scores determine your eligibility for the Michigan Competitive Scholarship program.

College Admission Test
Most students take the ACT in their junior year as it is part of the Michigan Merit Exam (MME). If you want to improve your score, you may take practice ACT or SAT tests. Ask your counselor about this process. You can also take the test as early as sixth grade for practice or for placement in special summer programs. Visit www.actstudent.org to learn more about planning for college, ACT® test preparation, academic preparation, applying to colleges, choosing a college, and to find a college planning checklist. Also, see http://www.actstudent.org/testprep/tips/test-day.html for tips about taking a standardized exam.

For more information on the MME test, which includes the ACT Plus Writing exam, visit MDE’s Web site at www.michigan.gov/mde and click on the Students Assessment tab.

College Fairs
College fairs offer a great opportunity for students and parents to meet face-to-face with a college admissions representative. To view a listing of Michigan college fairs, visit www.macrao.org and click on College Day/Night Calendar.

To view a listing of Michigan college fairs, visit www.macrao.org and click on College Day/Night Calendar.
Community Services, Extracurricular Activities, Awards, and Honors
Although your classes, grades, and exam scores are important, most colleges and universities also want to know how you spend your time outside of the classroom. By broadening your experiences, you will be more likely to match your interests with college program options and future employment possibilities. Include your community service, extracurricular activities, awards, and honors on any application.

High School Transcript Request
Well before your college application deadline, ask your counselor what the correct steps are to send your transcript electronically to the college(s) you are considering.

College Essays
As part of the application packet, some colleges and universities ask you to write about yourself or another topic. This essay will show them how well you express yourself in writing. The best way to prepare for this application essay is to take college prep English classes in high school and do well in these classes. Tips for writing your college essay may be found at http://www.act.org/studentblog/?p=693.

Letters of Recommendation
Many colleges and universities ask for one to three letters of recommendation and some schools have special forms for these letters. When you apply for college, you will need to ask people to write these letters for you. These people may be teachers, employers, or other adults (but not family members) who know you and have positive things to say about your work and your character. Usually letters of recommendation must be sent directly to the higher education program, college, or university. It’s your responsibility to make sure that the letters of recommendation arrive at the college before the deadline date.

Family Firsts
Are you the first generation in your family to consider college? See a set of helpful booklets on Family Firsts for students and parents at www.act.org/path/parent/college/firstgeneration.html.

SAVING AND PLANNING

College costs have increased over the past few years. Planning ahead will provide you some comfort when it comes time to pay for your postsecondary education. If you start saving for college now, you can reduce the amount of money you need later. Start financial planning and investing now.

Michigan Education Trust
The Michigan Education Trust (MET), Michigan’s guaranteed tuition program, allows parents, grandparents, or others to purchase future college tuition at today’s rates. With MET you avoid rising tuition rates, which are expected to more than double over the next ten years. For additional information about MET, call 1-800-MET-4-KID (1-800-638-4543) or visit www.setwithmet.com.

Michigan Education Savings Program
The Michigan Education Savings Program (MESP) is a savings/investment program designed to assist families with preparing for higher education expenses. A child’s parents or others can open an account for the child/beneficiary. The MESP account can then grow through regular contributions and investment growth. For additional information about MESP, call 1-877-861-MESP (1-877-861-6377) or visit www.misaves.com.
Scholarship Search
When searching for scholarships, remember to check local sources through your high school guidance office and local civic groups and businesses. Start searching early, during your junior year of high school. Use free, reputable Internet search services. Beware of scams and services requiring payment. (Additional information on scholarship searches and resources are available in Section II of this booklet.)

Be Money Smart - The Importance of Financial Literacy
Managing your financial resources effectively can lead to a lifetime of financial security. Students who have learned how to be “money smart” before college can save themselves a lot of heartache and money. Knowing how to save, budget, and borrow can make a huge difference. Avoid the “I wish I knew that before I took out this loan,” or “I wish I didn’t run up my credit card.”

- Finish your educational program on time with minimal long-term debt and only borrow what you need.
- Know the career you want to pursue. This will reduce your time in college and will allow you to save money.
- Put your money to work for you - learn to budget and save.
- Relax and feel less stress.

Early College
Attending an Early College offers college savings. ‘Early/Middle College Program’ is a five-year high school program designed to allow a pupil to earn a high school diploma and substantial college credit through an additional fifth year of study. A formal agreement with each postsecondary partner is required. Early/Middle College High Schools can begin as early as 9th or 10th grade. Students attend for five years and follow a specific, five-year program of instruction. For more information, visit http://www.michigan.gov/mde and click on MDE Programs.

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)
The CLEP is a credit-by-examination program that is accepted by some colleges and universities. Taking and passing the CLEP can provide a student with college credit without paying the cost of tuition. There is a fee to take CLEP; however, the fee varies depending on the course. For more information, please visit http://clep.collegeboard.org.

Dual Enrollment Equals Savings
Another way to be money smart is to participate in Dual Enrollment. Students enrolled in high school or home school may be dual enrolled at a local community college or university. Students from grades 9-12 are eligible for dual enrollment up to a maximum of ten courses in four years. If these students pass their college classes, they receive credit that may be applied toward their high school diploma or toward a college degree or certificate. Dual enrollment is advantageous to students because it allows them to get a head start on their college career and save money.

Check with your high school counselor to find out how you can be involved in the Dual Enrollment program. Information can also be found at www.michigan.gov/dualenrollment.
CHOOSING A COLLEGE

Campus Visits
Most colleges and universities have an online form to complete for scheduling a campus visit. Contact the admissions office for further questions. Spend some time thinking about what you want to get out of your visit, make yourself a checklist and compare your notes after visiting different campuses. Check out the Campus Visit Guide on the College Board Web site at https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/find-colleges/campus-visit-guide.

Types of Certificates and Degrees
The number of years you need to spend in college depends on the career you are preparing for, the certificate or degree required for that career, and whether or not you are in college full time. Different careers have different minimum certificate or degree requirements. Undergraduate postsecondary education:

Certificate
A certificate prepares you for entry-level jobs in a professional environment. Certificates provide training and/or education beyond high school to prepare for a specific occupation. Completion time depends upon the requirements of the program.

Apprenticeship
The apprenticeship program gives you hands-on job training and classroom study to help prepare you for a job. Students in these programs are called apprentices or trainees. Completion time depends on the requirements of the program, but it is usually two to three years after graduation from high school.

Associate Degree
An associate degree provides education and training for a specific career. Courses taken for an associate degree can be transferred to a four-year university if you plan ahead with the help of your college counselor. Completion time is usually two to four years after receiving a high school diploma or GED.

Bachelor Degree
A bachelor’s degree is composed of general and specific courses to prepare you for a career. In these programs, you will take the courses that are more focused on a specific career after a year or so of general classes. Completion time is usually four to six years after receiving a high school diploma or GED.

Types of Colleges

Career Schools
Career schools provide certificates of completion or diplomas; not degrees. They provide training in a specific trade, occupation, or vocation, and offer short programs. They must be licensed by the state of Michigan.

Community Colleges
Community colleges are two-year public institutions that offer certificates and associate degrees, as well as apprentice and journeyman programs. They prepare you for technical careers or for transfer into a four-year college or university.

Four-year Colleges and Universities
Four-year colleges and universities offer a wider variety of degrees including bachelor’s and master’s degrees. They may cost more than a community college and usually have specific admission requirements.

Note: Many colleges provide incoming students with an assessment test. These tests allow colleges to gauge the knowledge level of incoming students and ensure that they place these students in appropriate courses. By preparing for, and scoring high on college assessment tests, students can earn the opportunity to skip entry level courses and proceed to more advanced coursework.
APPLYING FOR FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID

Student financial aid consists of any source of funds available to students and their families to pay for the cost of any postsecondary education. The main sources of student financial aid are the federal government, state government, institutions (colleges and universities), and private sources such as associations, foundations, employers, and unions.

Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)
To be considered for most financial aid programs, students must file the FAFSA after January 1 of their high school senior year, and each year thereafter when applying for aid. This can be done online at www.fafsa.gov. Priority consideration for State programs is given to those students who apply and whose application is received at the federal processor on or before March 1.

PIN
Prior to completing the online FAFSA, the student and at least one parent must obtain a Personal Identification Number (PIN) at www.pin.ed.gov. The PINs are used as electronic signatures for the FAFSA and they allow access to the student’s financial aid records.

Financial Aid Funding Options
Financial aid funding options can be merit-based or need-based.

• Merit-based: Designed to assist students who excel in areas such as academics, sports, leadership, music, art, dance, etc. It is used to recruit and recognize students for their special talent or merit.

• Need-based: Determined by completing the FAFSA. Students who demonstrate financial need based on the results of the FAFSA may be eligible to receive an award based on their financial need for aid.

Note: The financial aid process is separate from the admissions process. Be aware of the forms that are required for each college you apply to. Some colleges require additional paperwork. Complete and submit all required forms in a timely manner.

Additional information on determining financial need can be found on the SSG Web site at www.michigan.gov/ssg and then clicking on the header Eligibility.

Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP)
SAP is the level of academic advancement required of students by the Higher Education Act of 1965, as amended, to receive federal student aid. SAP requirements must be based on qualitative and quantitative standards, as well as compliance with the maximum timeframe allowed for completion. How well a student does in class, along with the number of credit hours completed versus the number of hours attempted is very important and helps to determine that SAP is being met.
FEDERAL FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

These programs are awarded by the financial aid office of the college you attend:

Federal Pell Grant — The Federal Pell Grant is a grant for undergraduate students who demonstrate financial need and have not yet completed a bachelor’s or professional degree. Amounts change yearly.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG) — FSEOG provides funds to undergraduate students with exceptional financial need. Priority consideration is given to Federal Pell Grant recipients. Students could receive between $100 and $4,000 a year depending on need, when you apply, and funds available at your school.

Federal Work-Study — The Federal Work-Study program provides part-time employment for undergraduate and graduate students with financial need to assist with paying educational expenses.

Federal Perkins Loan — The Federal Perkins Loan is available to undergraduate and graduate students at a low interest rate. The principal and interest of the loan must be repaid to the school that disbursed the loan. Note: Not all institutions participate in the Federal Perkins Loan Program.

Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education Grant (TEACH) — For undergraduates who are completing or plan to complete coursework needed to begin a career in teaching at an elementary school, secondary school, or educational service agency that serves students from low-income families. Students must work in the field; otherwise, the grant turns into a loan.

Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grant — For students who are not eligible for a Pell Grant due to not meeting the program’s need requirement and whose parent or guardian died as a result of military service in Iraq or Afghanistan after September 11, 2011. The award is equal to the maximum Federal Pell Grant for the award year.

For more information on Federal Student Aid Programs, please visit www.StudentAid.gov.
Federal Direct Subsidized Loan — For undergraduate students. The federal government pays the interest while the borrower is in school, during grace, and deferment periods. The student must attend at least half time. Financial need is required. If you are a first-time borrower, there is a limit on the maximum period of time (measured in academic years) that you can receive Direct Subsidized loans. Check with your financial aid office for more details.

Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan — For undergraduate and graduate students. The borrower is responsible for all interest and the student must attend at least half time. Financial need is not required.

Federal Direct PLUS Loan — For parents of dependent undergraduate students and for graduate or professional students. The student must be enrolled at least half time. Financial need is not required. A credit check is required. If the parent is denied, the student can qualify for additional unsubsidized funds.

Private Loans — Loans can also be obtained from private sources such as a bank or financial institution. Note that loans made by the federal government usually offer borrowers lower interest rates and have more flexible repayment options than loans from banks or other private sources. See www.studentaid.ed.gov for more information and to keep abreast of any changes.

Beware

Don’t be blind-sided. Even though students may qualify for the total maximum loan amount each year of an academic level (i.e., $5,500/year for the first year at freshman level and $5,500/year for the second year at freshman level), it is not recommended they borrow the full amount they qualify for if there is not an immediate need. Once the maximum total debt from loans has been reached ($31,000 for an undergraduate dependent student), the student no longer is eligible for more student loans.
MICHIGAN FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS ADMINISTERED BY SSG

These programs are awarded by the State of Michigan:

Michigan Competitive Scholarship — The Michigan Competitive Scholarship (MCS) is based on both financial need and merit. MCS funds may be used at Michigan public and independent, nonprofit, degree-granting postsecondary institutions. To be considered, a student must take the ACT prior to entering college and achieve a qualifying score (23 composite or 90 scaled). When filing the FAFSA, the first institution listed under your college choice will be considered your priority school, and that is where the award will be delivered. Students are responsible for notifying SSG of a change in their college choice.

Michigan Tuition Grant — The Michigan Tuition Grant (MTG) is based on financial need for use at private, nonprofit, degree-granting colleges and universities in Michigan. The first institution listed under your college choice will be considered your priority school, and that is where the award will be delivered. Students are responsible for notifying SSG of a change in their college choice.

Police Officer’s and Fire Fighter’s Survivor Tuition Act — The Police Officer’s and Fire Fighter’s Survivor Tuition Act program (STG) provides for the waiver of tuition at public community colleges and state universities for the surviving spouse and children of Michigan police officers and fire fighters killed in the line of duty.

TIP must be initiated within four years from high school graduation and eligibility ends after ten years from date of high school graduation. The award is limited to tuition credit hours and mandatory fees.

Children of Veterans Tuition Grant — The Children of Veterans Tuition Grant (CVTG) is designed to provide undergraduate tuition assistance to certain children older than 16 and less than 26 years of age who are the natural or adopted child of a Michigan veteran. The veteran must have died or become totally and permanently disabled as a result of military service. You must take your letter of eligibility to the college financial aid office.

SEARCHING FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

There are thousands of scholarships from all kinds of organizations. The scholarship search is a significant undertaking. It is never too early to begin; however, it is recommended to start applying for scholarships as early as the 10th grade and continue while in college. According to The Princeton Review, there are five things you can do to jumpstart your search:

1. Check with your prospective colleges – There is usually a separate scholarship application process.
2. Inquire with the financial aid office – They may have a scholarship that is the right fit for you.
3. Research local community groups or your parent’s place of business; start by asking your counselor.
4. Search online – Useful Web sites are listed on the Student Scholarships and Grants Web site at www.michigan.gov/ssg.
5. Be keenly aware of deadlines – It is recommended you keep a calendar and make your earliest deadline the deadline for all of your applications.

It is likely you will search through hundreds of scholarships before you find one that applies to you. Be patient. You will eventually find a good match.

Apply early, often, and each year you are in college. If you miss a deadline and send your application in late, your application is likely to go to the bottom of the pile. If you skip over an award because you think you would not get it, you could be missing out on an opportunity for some generous funding that you would not need to pay back.

When searching for other scholarship sources, remember the following:

- Check local sources first through your high school guidance office, local civic groups, and businesses.
- Start searching early, during your high school junior year.
- Use free, reputable Internet search services. Beware of scams and services requiring payment.
