AT&T Teleconference Instructions

(How to call in and be able to have the operator unmute your line for questions.)

1. Log in to the AT&T Teleconference, using the log in information printed on the meeting agenda.
 - a. Note: It is recommended to use the link on the electronic version of the agenda rather than typing the information.
2. After logging into the teleconference, you will see a “Dial-In Instructions” box like the one below. Please go through the instructions, using the phone number and access code printed on the meeting agenda (the meeting agenda toll free number and access code should be the same as the one shown on the “Dial-In Instructions” box.)
3. Once you have dialed in on your phone, use the Link Phone With User code as shown in the instruction box on your screen (you may have to scroll down to see it). This will allow your name to be displayed with your phone number on the teleconference operator’s screen, allowing the operator to keep all participants muted while allowing you to be unmuted and giving you the ability to ask a question or provide a comment.
 - a. If you dialed in first, use the Already Connected by Phone code as shown in the instruction box on your screen.

This code is an example. AT&T will provide a code unique to you.
