All service entrance conductor wiring from a point of connection to the Company's service line at a location satisfactory to the Company shall be the responsibility of the customer.

If building modifications hinder access to metering facilities, create a hazardous condition, or cause a violation of code, the customer will be responsible for all costs incurred by the Company to correct these conditions.

- a. Access to Premises - The customer shall provide at no expense to the Company suitable space with provisions for installation and maintenance of the Company's facilities on the customer's premises. Authorized agents of the Company shall have access to the premises at all reasonable times for construction, operation, maintenance, removal or inspection of the Company's facilities, or to inspect the customer's facilities or measure the customer's load. Authorized employees and agents shall carry identification furnished by the Company and shall display it upon request. Failure to provide access for any of the above reasons may result in termination of service.

C. Use of Service

Each customer shall, as soon as electric service becomes available, purchase from the Company practically all electric energy used on the premise, and shall become liable for all charges incurred in the purchase of said electrical energy from the Company. Standby and/or supplemental on-site generation may be utilized only if approved by the Company and properly connected so as to prevent parallel operations with the Company's system.

2. Conditions of Use

The customer shall not use the service in any way that causes a safety hazard, endangers the Company's facilities, or disturbs service to other customers. Failure to comply with this provision may result in discontinuance of the customer's service.

Customer shall install only such motors or other apparatus or appliances as are suitable for operation with the character of the service supplied by Company, and electric energy must not be used in such a manner as to cause detrimental voltage fluctuations or disturbances in Company's distribution system.

3. Nonstandard Service

Customers shall be liable for the cost of any special installation necessary to meet particular requirements for service at other than standard voltages or for the supply of closer voltage regulation than required by standard practice.

The usual supply of electric service shall be subject to the provision of MPSC rules, but where special service-supply conditions or problems arise for which provision is not otherwise made, the Company may modify or adapt its supply terms to meet the peculiar requirements of such case.

The Company reserves the right to make special contractual arrangements as to the provision of necessary service facilities, duration of contract, minimum bills, or other service conditions with respect to customers whose establishments are remote from the Company's existing suitable facilities, or whose service requirements exceeds the capabilities of the Company system in the area, or otherwise necessitate unusual investments by the Company in service facilities or where the permanence of the service is questionable.

4. Resale of Electric Energy

Customers shall not resell to, or share with others, any electric service furnished by the Company under the terms of its filed rate schedules not applicable to such resale of energy, unless otherwise authorized by the Michigan Public Service Commission or the Company.

5. Service to Single Metering Points

Unless otherwise authorized by the Company, electric service will no longer be granted where connection is made to a single metering point for the purpose of resale to the reselling customer's ultimate user. Each user will be metered as an individual unit. For the purposes of this rule, resale will also include sales where the electric service is included in the rent.

Where, in the Company's opinion, the temporary or transient nature of the proposed ultimate use, physical limitation on extensions, or other circumstances, make it impractical for the Company to extend or render service directly to the ultimate user, energy may be purchased by a customer of the Company for resale to others.

Where electric energy is resold with the Company's approval, service to each ultimate user shall be separately metered, and the ultimate user shall be served and charged for such service under the appropriate rate for such service. The Company will be under no obligation to furnish or maintain meters or other facilities for the resale of service by the reselling customer to the ultimate user.

6. Point of Attachment

Where suitable service is available, the Company will install service connections from its distribution lines to a suitable point of attachment on the customer's premises designated by the Company. Where the customer requests a point of attachment other than that specified by the Company, and such alternative point of attachment is approved by the Company, the cost of installing additional intermediate supports, wires or fixtures necessary to reach the point of attachment requested by the customer, shall be borne by the customer.

Should it become necessary for any cause beyond the Company's control to change the location of the point of attachment of service connections, the entire cost of any changes in the customer's wiring made necessary thereby shall be borne by the customer.

A service connection will not be made unless the customer has installed his service entrance facilities in compliance with code requirements and specifications set forth by the Company.

The customer may be required to provide at no expense to the Company space for Company facilities on the customer's premises.

For overhead service, the location of the point of attachment must be such that the Company's service conductors can be installed without attachment to the building in any other locations.

Service will be provided to meter poles for farm service or other service where more than one structure is to be supplied from a single meter. The customer shall be required to install a fused disconnect switch on the pole at his own expense in accordance with Company specifications.

7. Service to House Trailers, Vans, Buses, Used as Dwelling Units

The Company will make service connection to house trailers, vans, buses, or any other dwelling of a mobile nature without special charges, except as specified herein under Section III, when the customer owns the premises and has installed an approved septic tank and well for his own use.

If the above conditions are not met, such installation and service facilities shall be considered to be Temporary Service as applicable under Rule III.B.12.

D. Nature and Quality of Service

The Company will endeavor to, but does not guarantee to furnish a continuous supply of electric energy and to maintain voltage and frequency within reasonable limits.

The Company shall not be liable for interruptions in the service, phase failure or reversal, or variations in the service characteristics, or for any loss or damage of any kind or character occasioned thereby, due to causes or conditions beyond the Company's control, and such causes or conditions shall be deemed to specifically include, but not be limited to, the following: acts or omissions of customers or third parties; operation of safety devices except when such operation is caused by the negligence of the Company, absence of an alternate supply of service; failure, malfunction, breakage, necessary repairs or inspection of machinery, facilities or equipment when the Company has carried on a program of maintenance consistent with the general practices prevailing in the industry; act of God; war; action of the elements; storm or flood; fire; riot; labor dispute or disturbances; or the exercise of authority or regulation by governmental or military authorities.

The customer shall be responsible for giving immediate notice to the Company of interruptions or variations in electric service so that appropriate corrective action can be taken.

The Company reserves the right to temporarily interrupt service for construction, repairs, emergency operations, shortages in power supply, safety and State or National emergencies and shall be under no liability with respect to any such interruption, curtailment or suspension.

E. Metering and Metering Equipment

The customer shall provide, free of expense to the Company and close to the point of service entrance, a space suitable to the Company for the installation of the necessary metering equipment. The customer shall permit only authorized agents of the Company or other persons lawfully authorized to do so, to inspect, test or remove the same. If the meters or metering equipment are damaged or destroyed through the neglect of the customer, the cost of necessary repairs or replacements shall be paid by the customer.

The Company reserves the right to make final decision with respect to methods and equipment used in measurement of loads for billing purposes.

1. Meter Testing - All testing of metering equipment will be done by qualified personnel, either Company employees or by independent agents meeting the requirements of both the Company and the Commission. The Company may, at its option, either conduct field tests on the customer's premises, or remove metering equipment for shop testing.
 - a. Routine Tests - The Company will, through test procedures established by the Commission, endeavor to maintain its metering equipment within the accuracy limits prescribed by the Commission.
 - b. Tests Requested by Customer - Tests of individual meters will be made upon request of the customer, with payment of a meter test fee in advance of test. The Company reserves the right to refuse to test any meter upon request more frequently than once in six (6) months. If such test reveals meter registration of more than 102% of that of the test equipment, the charge will be refunded and a billing adjustment made. If meter accuracy is found to be within the plus or minus two percent (2%) accuracy range, the charge will not be refunded and a billing adjustment will not be required. When it appears that there may be sufficient reason to question meter accuracy (for example, a marked increase in metered consumption without a corresponding change in a customer's living or working patterns or in the number and kind of appliances or equipment in use on the customer's premises), the Company may waive the meter test charge or it may install a second meter, at no charge to the customer, to provide check readings.
 - c. Failure to Register - When a meter has stopped, or has failed to register all of the energy used, the Company will make a charge to the customer for the energy estimated to have been used.

Budget Amount and Administration: The monthly budget amount shall be calculated by the Company on the basis of the estimated consumption and estimated applicable rates through the end of the budget year. A budget year begins with the customer's first bill on the budget plan and ends after 12 months.

An applicant for a budget plan shall be informed at the time of application, that budget amounts shall be reviewed and changed every six months, if necessary, in order to reflect current circumstances. Adjustments to the budget amount will be made with the objective that the customer's underbilled or overbilled balance in the 12th month of the budget year shall be less than or equal to one-month's budget amount. Customers on the budget payment plan shall be notified of adjustments through either a bill insert or message on the bill. When an adjustment is made to a budget payment amount, the customer will be informed of the adjustment at the same time the bill containing the adjustment is rendered.

C2. Standard Rules & Regulations—Terms and Conditions of Service

Continued from Sheet No. C-15.00

Customers who have arrearages shall be allowed to establish a budget payment plan by signing a Settlement Agreement for the arrears. The Settlement Agreement payment amount is not subject to the late payment charge. However, budget payment plans shall be subject to the late payment charge. In addition, if a budget payment is not paid, the customer shall be notified with the next billing that if proper payment is not received subsequent to this notification, the next regular billing may effectuate the removal of the customer from the budget and reflect the appropriate amount due.

At the end of the budget year, if an underbilled or overbilled balance exists in a customer's account, the balance shall be handled as follows:

- a. A residential customer's debit balance will be consolidated into the new budget amount or, at the customer's option, will be paid in full or on a deferred basis.
 - b. A residential customer's credit balance will be applied against the customer's account or, at the customer's option, a refund will be made or it will be consolidated into the new budget amount. If a customer has a credit balance of more than $2 at the end of the program year, upon the request of the customer, the utility shall return the credit balance.
 - c. A commercial/industrial customer's debit balance will be paid in full and a credit balance will be refunded.
4. Determination of Budget Amount: The regular budget amount is determined by taking the actual energy related bill amount and dividing this by the number of billing days in the period to get average cost per day. This average cost per day is then multiplied by 30 to determine a monthly amount. The monthly amount may be multiplied by a multiplier for rates and a multiplier for weather.
5. Billing Method: The difference between actual service used and the budget amount is calculated monthly during the budget year. The adjustment may be a charge or credit to make the amount due for current service, including yard lighting, equal to the budget amount. The adjustment is printed on all bills during the customer's budget year.

All budget accounts are billed as scheduled each month. The readings are estimated if an actual reading is not obtained. The adjustment to any "late cycle" billing of budget accounts is made equal to the amount of the billing, since the budget amount has already been billed.

4. Determination of Budget Amount: The regular budget amount is determined by dividing the estimated annual billing for all service, including yard lighting, by 12. The result is rounded to the next higher whole dollar. The estimated annual billing may be determined by heat loss calculations, analysis of previous use, estimated normal use, or any combination thereof.
5. Billing Method: The difference between actual service used and the budget amount is calculated monthly during the budget year. The difference between the actual billing and budget amount (the adjustment) is accumulated each month as "not due". The not due balance, including the current adjustment, is printed at the bottom of the bill and may be a charge or credit.

The amount remaining as "not due" is applied to the bill due at the end of the customer's budget year unless the customer discontinues service before that time or the budget is canceled. If the budget amount is accurate, the weather is normal, and there are no rate or tax changes, the balance should be roughly equal to the budget amount. The "not due" balance is applied to the final bill if the customer discontinues service.

I. Preferred Due Date Billing Service

1. Available to residential, farm and small commercial and industrial customers. Commercial and Industrial customers with annual charges exceeding $120,000 will be limited to choosing a bill due date that is within 21 days after billing.
2. Upon request by a customer, the Company will set the electric service bill due date as requested by the customer. The customer can choose the following options for their bill due date:
 - a. Same business day of each month (i.e., 3rd business day of each month); or
 - b. Same calendar day of each month (i.e., 3rd day of each month). For months when the selected calendar day falls on a holiday or weekend, the bill shall be due the next business day; or
 - c. 10, 15, or 20 days from the bill mail date.
3. Customers will be removed from the Preferred Due Date Billing Service if payment is not received by the date of the billing of the 2nd billing cycle. Customers can return to the Preferred Due Date Billing Service upon working out payment arrangements with the Company.

5. UNECONOMIC EXTENSIONS

Proposed extensions may be reviewed for economic considerations. If the cost of an extension exceeds five times the extension allowances, shown in Section 3.b. the company may require a contract with the customer. Under the terms of the contract, the customer shall be required to pay an additional monthly payment equal to the recurring estimated operation and maintenance expenses associated with that portion of the extension that is in excess of five times the average embedded cost at the time the extension was made. The reasons and supporting analysis for each contract will be furnished the customer and the Michigan Public Service Commission in writing. The company will inform the customer of the customer's right to ask the Commission for a review of the extension costs and contract provisions.

6. EXCEPTION TO EXTENSION RULE PAYMENTS

If the total payment required from the application of all sections of these extension rules totals less than $20 from one customer or applicant, said payment shall be waived. This rule shall amend all sections of these extension rules.

7. COLLECTION OF CUSTOMER CONTRIBUTIONS FOR CONSTRUCTION:

a. If the total advance customer payment required for the installation of an electric service is less than or equal to $20, the advance customer payment will be waived. Except as noted below, if the total advance customer payment required for the installation of an electric service line is greater than $20, but less than $1,000, the Company may bill the customer and install electric service facilities before payment is received. For any amounts greater than $20, the Company may require payment in advance of construction for any or all of the following reasons:

- 1) The customer does not have a satisfactory credit rating or standing with the Company.
- 2) The customer has other outstanding overdue balances with the Company.
- 3) There is a reasonable chance that the customer may never utilize the electric service facilities or pay the Company. An example would include customers with other installed fuel sources.
- 4) The customer's advance payment required for the installation of an electric primary extension upstream of the electric service facilities exceeds $1,000.
