

ODD FELLOWS HALL

Michigan Main Street

The Michigan Main Street program is an economic development tool based in historic preservation. Focused on the revitalization of traditional commercial districts, the program encompasses four key components: design, organization, promotion, and economic restructuring. Michigan Main Street communities receive facade rehabilitation design assistance from the State Historic Preservation Office's Main Street architect in order to support rehabilitation projects that will provide a significant impact in the local community. The historic Odd Fellows Hall, located at 214 E. Water Street, is one of several major facade rehabilitations underway or completed in the Boyne City Main Street area. The visual impact of the rehabilitated façade and the economic impact of the Main Street approach are evident in the renewed vitality of Boyne City's traditional commercial district.
