

Imagine a world where you're not afraid to go to school, to ride the bus, to walk to your locker, turn on your computer, to be yourself.

A world where you do not have to fear being alone.

Where you don't feel weak, embarrassed, or scared.

You have the power to stop the abuse.

Speak up, speak out; you can make a difference.

It's your voice, how will you use it?

Make your voice heard, go to ok2say.com.