

City of Detroit Individual Income Tax

New Information Guide

As part of a partnership that will help the city provide improved taxpayer service and run more efficiently, the Michigan Department of Treasury will begin to process City of Detroit individual income tax returns in January 2016 for the 2015 tax year.

The transition is part of Detroit's postbankruptcy management plan and affects any taxpayer subject to Detroit City income tax.

City taxpayers will be able to e-file their Detroit return with or without their State of Michigan Individual Income Tax return. In addition, taxpayers will have access to Treasury's online services to confirm receipt of a return and the date a refund is issued.
