

This Policy applies to all classified employees of the Department of Treasury (Treasury). It is not intended to supersede or modify any provisions contained in collective bargaining agreements. Non-career employees are not eligible for tuition reimbursement.

It is Treasury's policy to provide a tuition reimbursement program for eligible employees. This program will be implemented with available resources for the purpose of allowing employees to continue their education through courses which will benefit both Treasury and employee. The program for tuition reimbursement will apply to employees who are enrolled in an accredited academic institution and meet the criteria set forth in this Policy.
