The Trade Adjustment Assistance (TAA) program is a federal program that assists U.S. workers who have lost or may lose their jobs as a result of foreign trade. This program provides adversely affected workers with opportunities to obtain the skills, credentials, resources, and support necessary to become re-employed.

Petition Process
The first step to receiving TAA benefits and services is to file a petition online, or by mail, with the United States Department of Labor (USDOL). The petition may be filed by:

- Three or more workers in the same firm or subdivision;
- The workers’ employer;
- A union official or other duly authorized representative of such workers; or
- A State of Michigan Workforce Development Agency or Michigan Works! Agency representative

Upon receiving a petition, USDOL initiates an investigation to determine whether the circumstances of the layoff meet the group eligibility criteria established by the program.

TAA Program Eligibility
A petition identifies a worker group at a specific firm or subdivision and covers all individuals in that group. Generally, if a worker is laid off, a petition must be submitted within one year of the layoff for that worker to be covered by the petition and the certification, if USDOL grants the petition. A group of workers may be eligible for TAA if their jobs are lost or threatened due to trade-related circumstances as determined by the USDOL investigation.

After the investigation, USDOL determines group eligibility to apply for TAA benefits and services. Workers in a certified group will be notified by their local Michigan Works! Agency, at which time they may apply for individual eligibility for benefits and services.

If a worker is a member of a worker group certified by the USDOL, that worker may receive the following benefits and services at a local Michigan Works! Agency:

Employment and case management services: Assessments, career guidance, pre-vocational services, labor market information, supportive services, information on financial aid, employment planning, and information on training.

Training: Up to 130 weeks of training including:
- Classroom training
- On-the-job training
- Customized training
- Apprenticeships

Trade Readjustment Allowances (TRA): Up to 130 weeks of income support for workers enrolled in full-time training within 26 weeks of their trade-related layoff or certification, whichever is later.

Re-employment Trade Adjustment Assistance: A wage subsidy for workers age 50 or over who are re-employed at annual wages of $50,000 or less.

Job Search Allowance: Reimbursement for job search costs outside the worker’s local area.

Relocation Allowance: Reimbursement for relocation costs for a job outside the worker’s local area.

Workers must apply and be approved for TAA benefits through local Michigan Works! Agencies. TAA is not a reimbursement program.
