Re: Attorney General v Gelman Sciences, Inc., Case No. 88-34734-CE
Intervenors' Motion for Order to Show Cause

Dear Mr. Dupes:

As set forth in Gelman Sciences Inc.'s ("Gelman") Opposition to Intervenors' Motion for Entry of an Order to Show Cause Concerning Implementation of Response Activity Order, the Court does not have jurisdiction to hold the hearing Intervenors' Motion seeks, let alone to grant the relief it requests. Specifically, the requested progress review hearing and amendments to the Court's June 1, 2021 Response Activity Order while that very Order is on appeal are expressly barred by the Court of Appeals' July 26, 2021 Order granting partial stay and MCR 7.208(A). Based on the Court's lack of jurisdiction alone, Intervenors' motion should never have been filed and should now be withdrawn.

Gelman, however, has also responded to the substance of Intervenors' unsupported and inaccurate allegations by providing the Court and Intervenors with unequivocal proof that Gelman has complied with both the letter and spirit of the Court's Response Activity Order. Having been provided with this evidence, there is no rational basis for Intervenors to go forward with the hearing currently scheduled for this Thursday, June 16, 2022. If Intervenors do not withdraw their Motion and cancel the hearing, Gelman will be constrained to seek costs and attorney fees for having been required to respond to Intervenors' utterly unnecessary and unsupported Motion.

Please feel free to contact me if you would like to discuss this matter further.

Very truly yours,

ZAUSMER, P.C.
