

Reasons why it is good to have health insurance

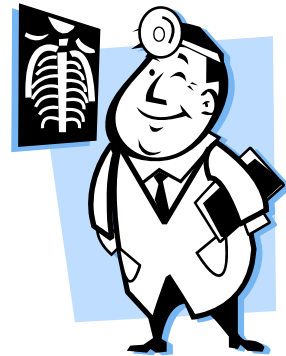

Eye exams are very important. They allow the Optometrist (eye doctor) to view the health of your eyes. Eye exams can show early stages of disease and if you need glasses. Okay, contact lenses – your choice. Glasses and contacts can be expensive if you have to pay for them yourself. Health insurance is big help with this!

Seeing a doctor on a regular basis, once a year, will help you stay healthy. There are exams your doctor does to make sure things are working well in your body. Health insurance allows you to have routine exams and this helps with preventing future health problems.

There are a couple of things that your doctor may do at your visit. One is prescribe medicine and the other is perform x-rays. Once the doctor knows what is going on, you may be given medication to help you feel better. Your doctor can figure out which medications are best for you.

An x-ray will help the doctor see what is going on inside your body. There are a lot of different types of x-rays but your doctor knows which you need.

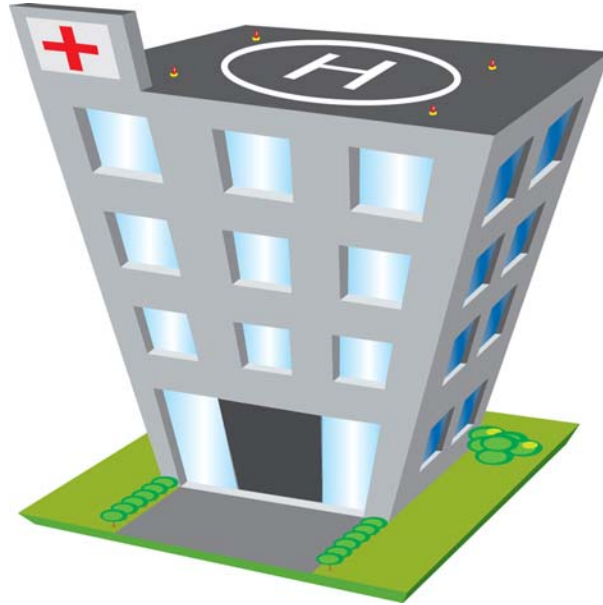

What about those times when you really need someone to talk to? Sometimes there are things happening in your life that you don't want to share with everyone. Health insurance lets you talk to people who won't look at you funny when you tell them how you feel and they can help you understand what you are going through.

I really love macaroni & cheese. I can't get enough!

Having a baby is a big deal. Health insurance can help you take care of yourself and your baby. You will be able to see your doctor regularly and get instructions on what to do for you and your baby. The doctor will also help you know what to expect on "the big day". And you know what? Even your baby needs health insurance! You want your baby to be happy and healthy too!
