How To Pay CLIA Fees Online

CLIA fees must be paid online at https://www.pay.gov.

At the home screen, type CLIA in the search box. Then hit the Enter key or click on the magnifying glass to initiate the search.

The search will result with the CLIA Laboratory Users Fee section. Click on the Continue button.

The next screen lists payment methods and the option to preview the payment form. Click the Continue to the Form button.

Complete the form. All required fields must be completed. If the name of the laboratory is entered differently than how it is listed in the CLIA data system, the payment will still be processed. A payment of any amount (under $49,999.99) may be entered.

Click the +Additional Laboratory button if submitting payment for more than one laboratory.

Then click the Continue button:

The next screen will prompt the user to select their payment method. Click the radio button of the desired option. Then click the Next button:

Provide the required payment information then click the Review and Submit button and follow remaining prompts to process payment.

Tips for Pay.gov

- There is no option to add a comment or a note
- Documents, such as fee coupons, cannot be attached
- Paying one fee with two credit cards at the same time is not possible.
- Pay.gov does not accept PayPal.
- Pay.gov does not update laboratory information in the CLIA database.