**Total participants includes those participants that were referred and that received services for PATH. It does not include those referrals (AEP and non-AEP) that were determined in-eligible, those who obtained employment, those who withdrew their application after referral, or those that did not show after they were referred to PATH.*

Application Eligibility Period (AEP) referrals are applicants for public assistance that must go through an initial assessment and barrier removal period before they become PATH participants and benefit payments begin.

Non-AEP referrals are clients that are already receiving public assistance benefits who are now work eligible and are referred directly to the PATH program.
