MiLogin for Business

You must have a MiLogin for Business Account to access MiUI.
Refer to the MiLogin for Business Step by Step to create an account, if needed.

Employers: Initiate your MiUI Account

MiUI is an employer-driven system. All employers must initiate their MiUI accounts. Even if someone performs unemployment insurance duties on your behalf, you are responsible to initiate your account.

After account initiation, you must confirm the accuracy of all their account details, including address, contact information, payment plan (if applicable), and reporting locations.

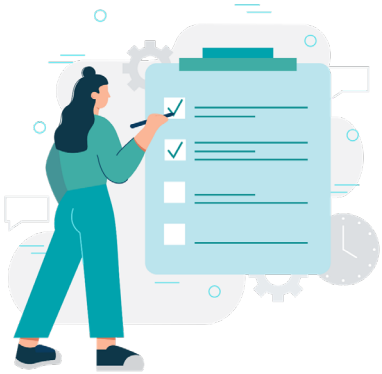
Associating a Third-Party Administrator (TPA)

A TPA is someone that performs unemployment tasks on behalf of an employer. TPAs can be Employer Representatives, Professional Employer Organizations (PEOs), Fiscal Intermediaries (FIs), or Reimbursable Group Accounts. Once employers have initiated their account, they must associate their TPA or confirm they have current TPA-employer associations and proper role assignments.



TPA Permissions in MiUI

- Employers will establish the role and time period TPAs can work on their behalf. Employers can independently manage TPA relationships by creating, updating, or ending associations.
- Multiple TPAs cannot have “edit” or “submit” role for an employer at the same time. TPAs can, however, have overlapping “view” access.
