Client Level Reporting

Getting Started

To begin the process of client level reporting a PEO should provide a list of PEO clients to the UIA. The list should contain if known:

- the employer name,
- the federal employer identification number (FEIN),
- the UIA account number (if any) and
- doing business as name (DBA, if any).

From this initial list, the UIA can check each client to see if the company has an active UIA account, an inactive/terminated UIA account or no UIA account at all.

If a PEO has a client, usually a sole proprietor, who has no federal employer identification number (FEIN), a FEIN must be obtained from the IRS before the business can be registered with the UIA. In the event that a FEIN (also sometimes called an EIN) is needed, Apply for an Employer Identification Number \(EIN\) Online.

For clients who will be leasing only a portion of their employees from the PEO and reporting payroll for non-leased employees, sub accounts or chargeable location accounts must be established. Each location account is indicated by a three-digit extension added to the end of an employer account number. If there are no location accounts, the last three digits are zeros.

- At least two chargeable location accounts must be established to allow for both a client and the PEO to file payroll each quarter.
- Additional location accounts may be established if desired.
- Once a chargeable location account is established it must be used by the PEO for reporting.
- The three digit extension of 000 should not be used for clients with location accounts.
- Unused location accounts should be closed to prevent any penalties for late filing or non-filing.

Note: It is important that you determine whether your client plans to report a portion of their own payroll. This is the only way you will know if location accounts need to be established. Remember, only one report can post to the employer's tax account and the other(s) will be considered as duplicates or invalid if location accounts are not created.

Establishing a PEO Registration

When a Professional Employer Organization (PEO) is informed of the clients who must be registered, the client registration process can begin. Each client must be registered either online through e-Registration for Michigan Taxes, or using Form 518, Registration for Michigan Taxes. If the PEO is located in Michigan, the PEO must register for a UIA account. If the PEO is already registered, no further registration action is needed. If the PEO is located out of state, no registration action is needed. A MiWAM account must be established by the PEO to comply with online filing requirements. See the Information in this Toolkit for instructions on establishing a MiWAM account.

Establishing a PEO/Service Provider Client Relationship

As a PEO/Service Provider, you will need to create a power of attorney through your MiWAM account. You would then be able to add clients electronically, file quarterly reports, make payments, protest tax issues and protest benefit charges. You may also process the 940 C for your clients.

Online Reporting through MiWAM

Filing of reports on behalf of client entities has never been easier. PEOs can log on to their account through the Michigan Web Account Manager (MiWAM) or create a MiWAM account at michigan.gov/uiia. Click on “Michigan Web Account Manager for Claimants and Employers” to start the process.

The following section includes information taken from the MiWAM Toolkit for Employers, including bulk file formats.

Message For MiWAM:

Please be aware of a current email scam that is occurring in Michigan and similarly in other states. Workers who have collected or are currently collecting unemployment benefits have received official-looking emails which copy an email that was sent from UIA to unemployment claimants earlier this year. The fake email includes an added section requesting the claimant reply to the email with their personal identifying information. If you have received this email, please do not respond. Responses to ID verification requests from UIA should only be uploaded through your secure MiWAM account at Michigan.gov/ui. UIA will never ask you to reply to an email with your personal information. .

This screenshot is similar to the previous one, showing the 'Review and Submit' step. However, a modal dialog box is overlaid on the page. The dialog box has a title bar with a close button (X) and contains the text: 'I certify that the information provided is true, correct, and completed to the best of my knowledge and belief.' Below this text is a 'Password' label followed by a text input field containing several dots. At the bottom right of the dialog box, there are two buttons: 'OK' and 'Cancel'. The 'OK' button is highlighted with a red box. In the background, the 'Submit' button from the previous screenshot is also visible and highlighted with a red box.

You may select “Printable View” or you can select “Ok” to return to the previous screen. Your client will appear in your account the following business day. You will have limited access for ten days where you can file quarterly reports and submit payments. After the ten day period is over, you will have full access to the client’s account, including features such as requesting refunds, protesting benefit charges, waivers of penalty and interest, etc. The client will receive a letter stating that you are requesting permission to access their account. The employer does not need to respond to the letter unless the employer does not want to grant you permission to access their account.

If the client is involved in the Work Opportunity Tax Credit program (WOTC), be sure to include the Begin and End Dates. Click "Submit." Click on the blue "I" icons for more information.

You must select "Yes" for "Sign Returns," if you select "Yes" for "Reports and Payments."

When selecting "Yes" to Benefit Services, you must select "Yes" to "Confidential Information" and "Oral Written Presentation." If you select "No," you will see the red highlighted areas and you will not be able to submit your Power of Attorney/MiWAM Account Authorizations.

If you select "Yes" regarding the "Receive Tax Forms," "Receive Claims Control Forms," and "Receive Contested Claims Forms," understand that there are various letters that you would receive by mail. Only one PEO or Service Provider is authorized to receive the mailings for Tax Forms, Claims Control Forms and Contested Claims Forms. See examples below.

Frequently Asked Questions

✓ Q: What if I have multiple PEOs?

A: Each PEO can be established with its own clients. If the PEO has no employees of its own, it can be established as a representative to file on behalf of its clients. A PEO can use a personal Social Security Number in lieu of a Federal Employer ID (FEIN) number.

✓ Q: What if I use a specific company only to file payroll for affiliate PEO companies?

A: The company filing the payroll is a service provider and can have a power of attorney established with each client for whom it will be filing payroll. The company must establish a MiWAM account to establish access to a client. For instructions on how to establish a MiWAM account, view or download the MiWAM Toolkit for Employers at michigan.gov/uia.

✓ Q: If a PEO has a pending appeal regarding the UIA employer account number for their organization, can the PEO utilize the electronic filing method required in Public Act 383?

A: If a PEO has a pending appeal regarding the only UIA employer account number being recognized by the Agency, and the PEO does not want to use that employer account number, then the PEO cannot file electronically until the issue has been resolved. For a PEO to use client-level reporting, the PEO must have only one active UIA employer account number.

✓ Q: For PEOs that convert to client-level reporting, will benefit charges be incurred while the claimant was employed by the PEO be charged to the PEO or the client UIA account number?

A: Benefits will be charged to the UIA employer account number of the PEO that originally reported the wages, just as a client account continues to be charged for benefits based on wages it reported prior to joining the PEO.

✓ Q: What is the status of the 940 Certification issue for PEOs and their clients?

A: The Agency must make a finding as to which co-employing entity, the PEO or the PEO's client, is in control of the payment of wages to the leased employees and, specifically, whether the PEO's payment of wages to the leased employees is contingent upon the PEO having first received such funds from its client entities.

To make such a finding, the Agency requires each PEO claiming the FUTA tax credit to provide the Agency with a statement signed by an owner, officer, or director of the PEO certifying that the payment of wages to the leased employees by the PEO is not contingent upon the payment, in advance, of any fee or other amount for that purpose by the client entity. Form UIA 6324, Certification By PEO Regarding Payment of Wages to Leased Employees, should be completed and returned to the Agency.

✓ Q: The PEO is required to file quarterly tax reports for each of its clients. Does this also apply to amendments (UIA 1028)?

A: Yes, the PEO may file all reports on behalf of its clients.

✓ Q: How do I register a client with multiple locations?

A: To register a client with multiple locations, contact PEO@michigan.gov.

✓ Q: Do PEOs still have to complete and submit Form 1003 to UIA?

A: NO, since the PEO now has Update Client Level Reporting access in MIWAM to provide the same information.
