June 15, 2011

Honorable Rick Snyder
Governor of the State of Michigan
Lansing, Michigan 48909

Dear Governor Snyder,

It is my pleasure to present the Annual Report of the Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards (MCOLES) for Calendar Year 2010. Over the years, MCOLES and its predecessor organizations have witnessed exceptional progress and expanding responsibilities. This trend continues, despite the fiscal difficulties that have confronted state government over the past few years.

As this Commission faced the challenges of 2010, it has remained true to the trust of its constituents. With your continuing support, we will hold fast to our commitment as guardians of the law enforcement profession and criminal justice leaders.

Under your leadership and with the direction of the Legislature, we look forward to continuing progress.

Respectfully Submitted,

ADVANCING PROFESSIONALISM IN PUBLIC SAFETY

“A police officer’s work cannot be performed on native ability alone...”

These words were written in the 1967 Annual Report of the Michigan Law Enforcement Officer’s Training Council (MLEOTC). Established under Public Act 203 of 1965, the original mission of MLEOTC proposed, “to make available to all local jurisdictions, however remote, the advantages of superior employee selection and training.”

In fulfilling this charge, MLEOTC developed comprehensive standards for the employment and training of Michigan law enforcement officers. Concurrently, it fostered the growth of a statewide network of basic training providers, capable of delivering standards, to produce competently trained law enforcement candidates. These achievements demonstrate a monumental commitment of time and resources at the state, regional, and local levels.

Of course, this did not happen overnight or without overcoming difficult hurdles. Significant achievements that have marked the way include the proliferation of approved training programs, the evaluation of pre-training candidates for physical and mental fitness, the implementation of mandatory employment standards, the development and institution of the mandatory basic training curriculum, the comprehensive evaluation of candidates who have completed training programs, and the institution of pre-service training programs that integrate law enforcement training with the attainment of a college degree.

Many of these achievements are reflected in amendments to the original legislation empowering this organization. Public Act 203 has been amended nine times since its enactment in 1965.

The most recent amendment to Public Act 203 came in 1998. This amendment changed our name to the Commission on Law Enforcement Standards (COLES), a title that more accurately reflects the work of this organization. The MCOLES acronym (Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards) was adopted in response to the Michigan law enforcement community, which had already begun referring to us by that name. An Executive Order officially added “Michigan” to our title in 2001.

The 1998 amendment also added revocation of the law enforcement license to our list of responsibilities. Revocation is now mandatory when an officer is convicted of a felony or if it is discovered that the officer committed fraud in obtaining law enforcement licensing. These cases represent a very small number of Michigan’s law enforcement population, which stood at approximately 19,804 officers at the close of 2010. They are each meticulously investigated with the accused afforded full due process. Revocation is an unpleasant but necessary fixture in the standards and training business, one that makes the law enforcement profession stronger.

The modern MCOLES philosophy is grounded in the knowledge that successful law enforcement can only happen when all components of the criminal justice system are working effectively, each sharing in the common purpose of advancing public safety.

THE MISSION OF MCOLES

MCOLES executes its statutory responsibility to promote public safety by setting standards for selection, employment, licensing, revocation, and funding in law enforcement and criminal justice.

Executive Order 2001-5, did much more than institutionalize the MCOLES label. It is among the most significant advances in MCOLES history, paving the way for the achievement of what has been attempted since 1982, the linkage of standards and funding.

This quest began with the enactment of Public Act 302 of 1982, which created the Michigan Justice Training Commission (MJTC). The MJTC and its funding arm, the Justice Training Fund, were created to promote in-service training in the Michigan criminal justice field. MJTC, over the years, operated first within the Department of Management and Budget, and later in the Department of State Police. The MJTC succeeded in stimulating the growth of criminal justice in-service training in Michigan, yet it was not able to coordinate that growth in a state-wide development plan. Despite attempts to the contrary, standards and funding operated autonomously under this configuration.

The Executive Order, which took effect November 1, 2001, mandated the union of standards and funding. Specifically, it required the institution of mandatory in-service training standards for Michigan law enforcement officers, with fiscal support from the Justice Training Fund. To accomplish this, the Order consolidated the former Michigan Justice Training Commission with the former Commission on Law Enforcement Standards, creating today's Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards.

The consolidation expanded MCOLES mission beyond law enforcement. Today, MCOLES provides a standards-based platform encompassing the entire career of Michigan law enforcement officers, as well as providing funding support for criminal justice training at large.

On October 15, 2008, Governor Granholm issued Executive Order 2008-19, expanding the Commission membership to seventeen, representing the Michigan criminal justice community.

The modern MCOLES philosophy is grounded in the knowledge that successful law enforcement can only happen when all components of the criminal justice system are working effectively, each sharing in the common purpose of advancing public safety. This is reflected in the MCOLES mission statement.

MCOLES meets its mission working in an atmosphere of open communication and trust, in partnership with the criminal justice community, providing client-focused services. MCOLES regularly contributes to effective public policy by functioning as a leader in public safety innovation and as a solutions-facilitator for problems facing law enforcement and the criminal justice community.

THE MCOLES VISION

Business Transactions

Communication between MCOLES and its constituents is done via a secure electronic system that enables an agency to submit and obtain information at any time that is convenient. Agencies and individuals are able to conduct business directly with MCOLES in a paperless manner and have full access to their own selection and training information.

Service

The focus of MCOLES is on service to constituents through assistance to agencies with the emphasis on results.

Learning

Training of recruits is problem-based with an emphasis on problem-solving, critical thinking, and multi-tasking using real-life scenarios. Graduates are assessed on their job-related competency.

Accreditation

Approved training providers are empowered to provide a high level of training through improved funding and accreditation by MCOLES. Accreditation teams composed of representative groups of professionals assess training providers to ensure compliance with statewide standards.

Continuing Education

The competency and professionalism of law enforcement officers is enhanced through mandatory in-service training covering both core and elective topics. The core training is MCOLES approved and delivered through accredited training consortia.

The MCOLES Vision

In fulfillment of our mission, we envision a service oriented organization, dedicated to learning and adequately funded to meet ongoing and newly arising challenges.

We value clear and open communication. We encourage involvement, information sharing, and collaboration in the decision-making process.

MCOLES COMMISSIONERS AND STAFF

The Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards is composed of seventeen members appointed by the Governor from the ranks of Michigan's law enforcement and criminal justice communities. Constituencies represented in the Commission's appointed membership consist of:

- the Michigan Sheriffs' Association;
- the Police Officers Association of Michigan;
- the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police;
- the Michigan Fraternal Order of Police;
- the Detroit Police Officers Association;
- the Prosecuting Attorneys Association of Michigan;
- the Criminal Defense Attorneys Association of Michigan;
- the Michigan State Police Troopers Association;
- the Michigan Association of Police; and
- the Police Officers Labor Council.

Also represented on an ex-officio basis are the Detroit Police Department, the Michigan State Police, and the Attorney General of Michigan.

During 2010, Sheriff James Bosscher, representing the Michigan Sheriffs' Association, served as the Commission Chair. Chief Doreen Olko, representing the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, served as the Commission's Vice Chair.

The Commission meets no less than four times annually to set policy regarding the selection, employment, training, licensing, and retention of all Michigan law enforcement officers. During 2010, there were six regular meetings of the Commission. An Executive Director Selection Committee was formed and after an exhaustive, nationwide search, a special session was held offering employment to MCOLES' new Executive Director, David L. Harvey. In addition, the Commission's Executive, Legislative, and Implementation Committees met numerous times throughout 2010.

Commissioner duties extend beyond the law enforcement arena, as Commissioners set policy with regard to the administration of the justice training dollars. These decisions have a direct impact on the distribution of funds in the Commission's competitive grant process, which provides support for in-service training in all facets of Michigan's criminal justice system.

In addition to their formal duties, MCOLES Commissioners invest countless hours on behalf of Michigan's criminal justice community. Substantial time is required of Commissioners to apprise themselves of the various issues they must understand. Commissioners are frequently asked to attend and address academy graduations and make other public speaking appearances on behalf of MCOLES. Commissioners are often called upon to represent MCOLES at meetings of the legislature, other government agencies, training directors, and at conferences of professional organizations that have a stake in criminal justice. MCOLES Commissioners must also be available to handle inquiries from their various constituencies concerning MCOLES services and policies.

MCOLES staff members possess a high level of law enforcement experience. This experience includes every facet of law enforcement ranging from that of the street level officer to that of the chief law enforcement administrator. MCOLES staff have also served in various capacities in the development, management, and delivery of law enforcement training at institutions across the United States.

The Commission's full time employee allocation for this fiscal year was 26. The state's fiscal dilemma has prevented employment of the full compliment of allocated personnel since 2003. At the close of 2010, the legislature passed a retirement incentive which left MCOLES impacted with the loss of a significant number of experienced employees. MCOLES is now left to do more today than we did in 2000, with 15 employees on staff. The wide span of MCOLES staff experience, education, and training is particularly important in accomplishing the complex array of MCOLES responsibilities, especially as we begin to prioritize doing more with less staff.

Michigan's Concealed Pistol Laws

Proficiency in the MCOLES Course of Fire

The first active duty standard, or “continuing education” requirement in Michigan, now mandatory for all MCOLES licensed law enforcement officers, was implemented in January of 2009. Now, over two years later the Active Duty Firearm Standard is performing as expected. This standard, intended to ensure a base level of knowledge, decision-making, and mechanical proficiency regarding the primary duty weapon and the use of deadly force, is based on research of actual officer-involved-shootings, input from Michigan subject-matter-experts, the 2006 MCOLES job-task-analysis, and best practices from around the state and country.

Table 1 displays MITN registry data for 2009 and 2010. The Table shows that the law enforcement community in Michigan is increasingly using our automated tracking network to document compliance with the mandatory firearm standard. Although only 209 law enforcement agencies and training consortiums in Michigan have currently registered the Active Duty Firearm Standard in MITN, these registered courses generated compliance for almost 10,000 officers in 2010.

MCOLES Active Duty Firearms Standard
Comparison of Training Registry

	2009	2010	Percent Increase
Number of licensed officers who attended registered training to comply with the Active Duty Firearm Standard, generating a permanent record of compliance in MITN	4,747	9,941	109 %
Number of training courses registered in MITN that comply with the Active Duty Firearm Standard	139	228	64 %
Number of law enforcement agencies and training consortiums that registered a course in MITN that complies with the Active Duty Firearm Standard	131	209	60 %
Number of training offerings of MITN registered training that complies with the Active Duty Firearm Standard.	389	920	137 %

Clicking the radio button on the registration page to report compliance does not generate a training record in MITN for each officer. Therefore, we recommend that agencies register the firearms standard in our MITN system as active duty training. It is the preferred method for tracking compliance for all agencies. As noted above, only half of the licensed officers who complied with the standard have MITN training records that document compliance, even though almost 80% of agencies indicated that all their officers met the active duty firearms standard during the 2010.

MCOLES ECONOMIC SUPPORT: THE JUSTICE TRAINING FUND

MCOLES is responsible for the administration of the Michigan justice training fund, which operates under Public Act 302 of 1982, as amended. The fund provides financial support for in-service training of criminal justice personnel.

The Michigan justice training fund operates in the following manner. Public Act 301 of 1982, which amended Public Act 300 of 1949 (the Michigan Motor Vehicle Code), directs the district courts to collect a $5.00 assessment on each civil infraction fine (traffic violation conviction), excluding parking violations and violations for which the total fine and costs imposed are $10.00 or less. The collected fee assessments are then transmitted to the state treasury for deposit in the justice system fund (JSF). A percent of the JSF is then deposited in the justice training fund.

Executive Order 2001-5 has designated MCOLES to administer the fund. The Commission is mandated by the Act to distribute 60 percent of the fund semi-annually in what has come to be known as the law enforcement distribution. These monies are provided to law enforcement agencies to provide for direct costs in support of law enforcement in-service training. Distributions are made on a per capita basis, the amount of which is dependent on the number of full time equivalent MCOLES licensed police officers employed by cities, villages, townships, counties, colleges and universities, and the Department of State Police.

During 2010, $3,619,253.00 was disbursed to law enforcement agencies on a per capita basis. The spring distribution provided 493 agencies with $1,796,491.20. The per capita amount was $98.80. The fall distribution provided 494 agencies with $1,822,761.80. The per capita amount was $100.20. Fifty-three (53) law enforcement agencies employing 3 or fewer law enforcement officers received the minimum distribution of $500 for the year.

The remaining portion of the fund, less administrative costs, is designated for competitive grants awarded to state and local agencies from the various criminal justice disciplines (adjudication, corrections, criminal defense, law enforcement, and prosecution) to train their own employees, or the employees of other eligible agencies.

Workshops are held each year to provide potential criminal justice grant applicants with specific detailed information on application requirements.

The annual competitive grant award cycle begins in the spring with application workshops. MCOLES staff members present an overview of the justice training grant program to potential applicants and facilitate a discussion of funding requirements and Commission priorities. Underlying criteria for all applications are the quality and cost effectiveness of the training program and the criminal justice needs of the state. These needs are reflected in the Commission priorities which were established through an assessment of the training requirements of each discipline, with an emphasis on training delivery through the consortium concept.

Completed applications are submitted to the Commission by late summer. Each application is reviewed programmatically and fiscally by MCOLES staff members to ensure compliance with Public Act 302 of 1982, as amended, the Justice Training Administrative Rules, competitive grant guidelines, and applicable MCOLES standards. All applications that meet the requirements are forwarded, together with a staff recommendation, to the Commission for a second review. Preliminary action is taken by the Commission at their November meeting pending a final determination of available funds at the close of the state fiscal year. Grants are awarded by the Commission at their December meeting for program implementation during the following calendar year. Grant contract documents are distributed to successful applicants at award workshops where MCOLES staff members review contract conditions and reporting requirements.

2011 Justice Training Grant Awards

Adjudication	$30,950	1%
Criminal Defense	$197,254	10%
Law Enforcement	$1,690,035	81%
Prosecution	$156,768	8%
Total	$2,075,007	100%

During the 2010 review cycle, 37 grant applications were received and, from these, 32 grants were awarded totaling $2,075,007. The distribution of grant funds to the various disciplines is depicted in the chart above.

TRAINING TO LOCALS: FUNDING SUPPORT FOR BASIC TRAINING

Training to Locals (TTL) is the MCOLES program that provides partial reimbursement of basic law enforcement training academy tuition to local law enforcement agencies that employ candidates for the express purpose of becoming licensed law enforcement officers.

Several criteria must be met before the agency is eligible to receive reimbursement. The conditions of employment must comply with the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act. The employed candidate must successfully complete basic training and pass the MCOLES licensing examination before the employing law enforcement agency initiates license activation. MCOLES licensure is the final TTL eligibility requirement. Eligible agencies are notified by MCOLES and a simple registration process initiates the payment process.

The per-candidate reimbursement amount is calculated each fiscal year as the amount allocated to the TTL fund divided by the number of employed candidates trained and licensed during the funding period. In 2010 the per-candidate reimbursement amount was $1,400. A total of $165,200 was distributed to 20 Michigan law enforcement agencies, in 12 counties, for 118 employed candidates. The chart below provides the details of the 2010 reimbursement.

PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICERS BENEFIT ACT

DEATH AND DISABILITY BENEFITS

The Act provides for a one-time payment of $25,000 for the care of a public safety officer permanently and totally disabled in the line of duty. In the event the public safety officer was killed in the line of duty, the spouse, children, or estate of the officer may be eligible for the one time payment of $25,000.

During 2004, the Commission became the agency designated to administer the Public Safety Officers Benefit Act (PSOB), Public Act 46 of 2004. The Act provides for a one-time payment of $25,000 for the care of a public safety officer permanently and totally disabled in the line of duty. In the event the public safety officer was killed in the line of duty, the spouse, children, or estate of the officer may be eligible for the one time payment of $25,000. Benefits paid under the Act are retroactive to incidents resulting in an officer's death or permanent and total disability that occurred on or after October 1, 2003.

Covered Public Safety Officers

"Public safety officer" means an individual serving a public agency in an official capacity, with or without compensation, as a law enforcement officer, firefighter, rescue squad member, or ambulance crew member. Further, "law enforcement officer" means an individual involved in crime and juvenile delinquency control or reduction or the enforcement of the criminal law. It includes police, corrections, probation, parole, bailiffs, or other similar court officers. "Firefighter" means a volunteer or employed member of a fire department of a city, county, township, village, state university, community college, or a member of the Department of Natural Resources employed to fight fires.

Eligibility

The one-time $25,000 benefit is paid to an eligible beneficiary(ies) in the following order:

If the public safety officer is permanently and totally disabled, the one-time benefit will be paid to the spouse; if there is no spouse, then to the dependents of the officer. If there are no dependents, then the benefit will be paid to the entity providing care to the officer.

If the officer is killed in the line of duty, the benefit will be paid to the spouse. If there is no surviving spouse, then to dependents of the officer. If there is no surviving spouse or surviving dependents, then the benefit will be paid to the estate of the deceased officer.

Benefits Distributed in 2010

A total of $100,000 was distributed from fiscal year 2010 funds to survivors for the deaths of four law enforcement officers.

POLICE OFFICERS AND FIREFIGHTERS SURVIVOR TUITION PROGRAM

In May of 1996, MCOLES was given administrative responsibility for the Survivor Tuition Program under Public Act 195 of 1996. This legislation provides for the waiver of tuition at public community colleges and state universities for the surviving spouse and children of Michigan police officers and firefighters killed in the line of duty.

In conjunction with the Michigan Student Financial Aid, procedures have been developed for the application, review, and approval of tuition waivers as specified in Public Act 195 of 1996.

A concerted effort has also been made to announce the program and encourage participation. Articles have been published in appropriate professional association newsletters, and announcements were made to all Michigan law enforcement agencies and fire departments. In addition to information at the MCOLES Web site, the survivor tuition program is publicized in the financial aid directory of available resources for all four and two-year schools in Michigan and also appears in the MICASH database, a state sponsored scholarship search service of all private and state resources which is accessible via the Internet.

In 2010, MCOLES processed five applications for waiver of tuition at Michigan colleges and universities. Three applications were approved for students attending three state universities. A total of $30,892.75 in tuition was waived for students in this program during fiscal year 2010.

At the end of 2010, this program was transferred to the Department of Treasury.

In 2010, MCOLES processed five applications for waiver of tuition at Michigan colleges and universities. Three applications were approved for students attending three state universities. A total of $30,892.75 in tuition was waived for students in this program during fiscal year 2010.

STANDARDS: THE FOUNDATION OF EFFECTIVE SERVICE

Some of the most effective and enduring improvements seen in the criminal justice world are the result of standards.

What type of person would you hope to respond when you have become the victim of a crime? How would you want your child to be treated if he or she was arrested? Will your interests be adequately represented in court? Will our prisons safely and securely house the guilty? Who will look after persons released from prison? Will the criminal justice system work for me? Will it be fair?

These questions personalize the impact that law enforcement and the criminal justice system can have on our lives, and they raise interesting possibilities regarding how we can make it work best.

Some of the most effective and enduring improvements seen in the criminal justice world have come from standards-based approaches to solving large, systemic problems. Standards are, put simply, the criteria that support the achievement of a goal or objective. Properly developed standards are successful, because they are built on a foundation of validity.

Improving public safety is not merely a good idea. It is a necessity. Crime is ever changing and requires a dynamic response. While crime continues to present new challenges, other problems also beg for attention. Virtually every component of the criminal justice system faces serious tests and requires frequent maintenance in order to best utilize new technology, provide homeland security, overcome ethical problems, and remain effective despite funding shortages. In the final analysis, modern public safety must strive for continuous improvement, employing strategies that build interoperability between its various components and the criminal justice system, at large.

It is important to note that strategies to improve criminal justice are frequently subject to controversy and accusations that they do not do what they purport to do, that they are skewed to favored segments of the population, or that they will be otherwise ineffective. Often, there is no defense against these criticisms, because insufficient attention is given to research, e.g., validating the relationship between given strategies and the desired result. Hence both good and bad programs alike may fall into decline. Lacking a well-researched strategy, programs find it difficult to maintain the support that is necessary to produce lasting positive effect.

MCOLES standards are employed to define the hundreds of learning objectives that law enforcement officers must master to successfully complete their training. Yet training is only one avenue for transmission of standards to the delivery of public safety services. MCOLES standards govern performance levels, instructional methodologies, training environments, qualifications for training and/or employment, ethical character, professional licensing and more.

EMPLOYMENT STANDARDS

Standards help ensure the minimum competencies of law enforcement officers. To be sure, standards development cannot be done from an armchair. It requires work, expense, and the involvement of experts and practitioners. Standards must reflect the needs of today and anticipate the needs of tomorrow. Most standards also require follow-up maintenance to maintain validity and viability. Yet the outcome of the standards-based approach is undeniable. Standards provide answers that make a difference, and the process of building standards cultivates trust.

MCOLES sets standards for Michigan's law enforcement officers. Law enforcement duties cannot be performed effectively by every person who decides to take up the profession. A law enforcement officer must possess physical and mental capabilities, as well as being able to meet ethical, psychological, and training standards. A summation of the standards that must be met by persons entering the law enforcement profession in Michigan are listed below.

MEETING AND MAINTAINING EMPLOYMENT SELECTION STANDARDS

Standards are, in a sense, an underutilized resource that holds promise for the solution of many ills plaguing public safety.

About 75% of Michigan's law enforcement training candidates enter training prior to securing law enforcement employment.

The MCOLES "Meet and Maintain Policy" requires pre-service law enforcement candidates to meet most law enforcement employment standards prior to entering training and during the training session. This restriction protects candidates who have uncorrectable problems from expending their time and financial resources in law enforcement training only to find out later that it is impossible for them to enter the profession. Once training has been successfully completed, candidates must maintain compliance with standards in order to secure law enforcement employment.

BASIC TRAINING STANDARDS

The foundation of law enforcement training in Michigan is the basic training curriculum. The basic training curriculum, available at the MCOLES Web site, is an evolution that closely mirrors the progress and changes that have happened over the years in the law enforcement profession. MCOLES expends significant resources to build and maintain this curriculum, providing updates and developing new subject matter.

Michigan's basic training curriculum is developed and maintained in a collaborative relationship with the criminal justice community. MCOLES staff members, in conjunction with committees of subject matter experts, develop proposed curriculum changes and initiatives that reflect the current needs of the law enforcement profession. Subject matter experts are drawn from the field of law enforcement and criminal justice practitioners, academia, and training providers. Learning objectives are identified in terms of the behavior desired of the successful officer.

Final products are subjected to the review of a Curriculum Review and Advisory Committee, which must assess the impact of the proposed new material upon law enforcement training providers and public safety at large.

LICENSING

THE LAW ENFORCEMENT LICENSE

Successful attainment of MCOLES standards reflects mastery of diverse bodies of knowledge and development of tough skills that are essential to the performance of law enforcement duties.

MCOLES standards provide leadership and direction in the selection, training, and ultimately, in the licensure of Michigan's law enforcement officers.

During each year MCOLES provides new licensure for law enforcement officers, statewide. In 2010, MCOLES licensed 352 new law enforcement officers. MCOLES also provides licensure of Michigan's private security police officers.

Law enforcement licensure signifies readiness for entry into the law enforcement profession. The officer's license is often referred to as the law enforcement certification, which is an assurance (or certification), that the officer meets the standards required of Michigan law enforcement officers.

The significance of the law enforcement license should not be overlooked. Michigan officers have met high educational, medical, and background standards that distinguish an officer among his or her peers. Successful attainment of MCOLES standards reflects mastery of diverse bodies of knowledge and the development of tactical skills that are essential to the performance of law enforcement duties. Moreover, the law enforcement license signifies the beginning of a career in the exciting field of law enforcement.

HOW A LICENSE IS ISSUED

Law enforcement licensing occurs within a partnership among candidates, training providers, law enforcement employers, and MCOLES. In a collaborative effort, each party fulfills specific responsibilities, yet also works to ensure that only qualified candidates enter the law enforcement profession.

The Law Enforcement License is awarded by MCOLES when the employer requests activation, and the candidate meets the following requirements: (1) compliance with the Commission's minimum selection and training standards, and (2) employment with a law enforcement agency as a law enforcement officer.

Persons who have been previously licensed Michigan law enforcement officers or who were licensed in another state, and who are seeking re-licensing in Michigan are directed to the Commission's Recognition of Prior Training and Experience Program.

The Commission's minimum selection and training standards are presented in the section of this report entitled, “Standards: The Foundation of Effective Service.” The greatest challenges in the path to law enforcement licensure are completion of the basic training (graduation) and successful performance on a comprehensive state licensure examination.

Basic recruit training must be completed at an MCOLES approved training academy. There are 20 academies statewide, strategically situated in geographic locations that best serve Michigan’s population base. MCOLES mandates a curriculum that consists of 594 hours, although every academy provides training that exceeds this requirement.

There are three program options available to law enforcement training candidates. Each program is designed to meet different goals; however, each may lead the successful candidate to law enforcement employment and licensure.

Employed Candidate Training Programs.

A candidate may initially become employed by a bona fide law enforcement agency and subsequently attend the training as an “employed” candidate. Employed candidates are compensated by their employer for all of the time they are in attendance at training. Upon graduation and successfully completing the state examination, the candidate becomes eligible to become a fully licensed officer with the employing agency. Successful employed candidates are eligible for initial licensure only through the original employing law enforcement agency. Approximately half of Michigan’s police officers enter the law enforcement profession through this avenue.

Pre-Service Training Programs.

Many law enforcement agencies employ only those applicants who have already completed recruit training at their own expense. A candidate intending to become employed with such an agency may make direct application to a “Pre-Service” Training Program. Pre-Service candidates must pay for all costs associated with their training. Pre-Service candidates are not compensated by a law enforcement agency for their attendance at training, nor is law enforcement employment guaranteed upon graduation. In order to enter a Pre-Service Training Program, the candidate must first possess an Associate’s Degree or higher.

Upon successful completion of the Pre-Service Training Program and passing the state licensure examination, the candidate may apply for employment with any Michigan law enforcement agency. Pre-Service Training Program graduates must obtain employment with a law enforcement agency as a fully empowered law enforcement officer within one year of graduation in order to receive state licensure.

The greatest challenges in the path to law enforcement licensure are completion of basic training and successful performance on a comprehensive state licensure examination.

Track Programs.

A track program offers the candidate an opportunity to undergo basic law enforcement training while also earning a college degree. Track program candidates are not employed by a law enforcement agency at the time of their training and therefore must pay all costs associated with their training. Of the 20 MCOLES approved training academies statewide, four locations offer a college track program with completion of an associates degree and two locations offer a college track program with the completion of a baccalaureate degree. Community college track programs offer the two-year associate's degree, and university-based track programs offer the four-year degree. Program graduates must become employed with a law enforcement agency, as a fully empowered law enforcement officer, within one year of graduation in order to become licensed.

Pre-enrollment Testing.

Regardless of which training option is chosen, all candidates must pass two pre-enrollment tests in order to become eligible for entry into an academy training session. The MCOLES reading and writing examination is administered via computer at designated sites. The MCOLES physical fitness test must be taken at MCOLES approved academy sites. Both tests are scheduled on a periodic basis. Test schedules may be viewed at the MCOLES Web site at www.michigan.gov/mcoles.

Each candidate enrolling in a training session must attain passing scores on these tests. The physical fitness test is also used to assess candidate fitness upon exiting academy training.

THE LAW ENFORCEMENT LICENSURE EXAMINATION

The law enforcement licensure examination is often referred to as the state certification examination. Every candidate for Michigan law enforcement licensure must pass this examination. The examination is designed to measure mastery of the MCOLES mandated curriculum. This is a comprehensive written examination wherein the examinees are presented with various situational questions to which they must identify the correct response. The test is behavioral in nature in that the respondents must identify the law enforcement behavior that is appropriate for the situation they are presented.

The examination consists of 200 multiple-choice questions, each accompanied by three plausible alternatives. The test questions are “blueprinted” to the 594-hour curriculum. This means that test questions are matched to the individual training objectives that appear in the curriculum. The validity of this examination is closely monitored by MCOLES testing experts. Through a pre-testing process, statistical analyses of all questions are performed to ensure that the test items are fair and that they are free from any ambiguity and bias. Questions are also pre-tested to ensure that alternative choices, known as distractors, are working as intended.

Recruits who fail the initial administration of this examination are given a second chance to pass the test. Those who fail the final administration of the examination are required to repeat the training experience in order to continue pursuit of a Michigan law enforcement career.

Although all recruits must pass this examination to become licensed, the use of a single test score by MCOLES is not the sole determinant of skills mastery. One test cannot fully evaluate recruit competencies. Accordingly, MCOLES requires that all academies administer periodic written examinations to their recruits, including a comprehensive legal examination near the completion of the school, in addition to individual skills assessments (firearms, emergency vehicle operations, subject control, first aid, and physical fitness). The recruits are assessed throughout their academy experience in a variety of manners in order to measure their suitability for the profession.

The law enforcement licensure examination is often referred to as the state certification examination.

PERSONNEL TRACKING

Today, personnel tracking information is updated continuously through law enforcement agency reporting of new hires and separations from employment and through MCOLES annual registration for the law enforcement distribution.

On July 3, 1998, Governor Engler signed into law Public Act 237. Among the changes this legislation brought was the requirement for police agencies to report, to MCOLES, the employment or separation from employment of law enforcement officers.

These provisions were included to ensure that persons who practice law enforcement in Michigan meet the minimum training and employment standards prescribed by the State.

An essential underpinning of law enforcement licensure in Michigan, as well as in most other states, is valid law enforcement employment, yet MCOLES and its predecessor, the Michigan Law Enforcement Officers Training Council, lacked an effective mechanism to track officer law enforcement employment beyond initial licensure. The reporting requirement of Public Act 237 provided the remedy.

MCOLES implemented personnel tracking by conducting a baseline registration to identify all of the currently practicing law enforcement officers in Michigan. The registration was carried out with a limited number of technical problems, concluding in February 2000. Today, personnel tracking information is updated continuously through law enforcement agency reporting of new hires and separations from employment and through MCOLES annual registration for the law enforcement distribution.

The annual profile of Michigan law enforcement continues to demonstrate a fluctuating population of officers, as well as slight fluctuations in the number of the functioning law enforcement agencies in this state. Separations from employment by way of resignation or dismissal have continued at rates not dissimilar to the past. Likewise, the formation and/or disbanding of law enforcement agencies is occurring at a pace consistent with other years.

During 2010, over 609 law enforcement agencies operated in Michigan, employing approximately 19,804 officers. One of these agencies, the Michigan State Police, operated 64 posts throughout the state. The largest law enforcement employer, the Detroit Police Department, employed approximately 2,900 officers. The smallest law enforcement employer in the state employed one officer.

The information provided in the MCOLES personnel registration process serves law enforcement well. It provides a current listing of Michigan's practicing law enforcement officers and the agencies through which they are empowered. Secondly, it provides law enforcement employers with verified histories of law enforcement employment in Michigan. Third, this process streamlines the registration system for the law enforcement distribution, and finally, this process enables various assessments of Michigan's law enforcement population to determine demographic trends and predict training needs.

REVOCATION OF THE LAW ENFORCEMENT LICENSE

Unethical behavior by police officers cannot be ignored. Most ethical breaches require official action. Law enforcement employers handle many of these cases; however, some violations warrant removal of an individual's ability to remain in the law enforcement profession. The most effective way to accomplish this is revocation of law enforcement licensure.

In the past, MCOLES had few tools to address serious ethical violations committed by licensed law enforcement officers. As a result of Public Act 237 of 1998, MCOLES is now responsible for revocation of the law enforcement license (certification) when the holder has been convicted of a felony, whether by verdict of a judge or jury, plea of guilty, or plea of no contest. Felonies, as defined in the Act, include those crimes expressly designated by statute as felonies and crimes that are punishable by a term of imprisonment that is greater than one year. Additionally, revocation is required when a person is found to have committed misrepresentation or fraud in gaining law enforcement licensure.

MCOLES does not take revocation action on ethics complaints that fall outside the statutory guidelines specified in P.A. 237. These cases remain the responsibility of local authorities. Each case that falls within MCOLES scope of authority is investigated thoroughly, and the accused officers are afforded full due process, specified under the Administrative Procedures Act of 1969.

MCOLES investigates any standards compliance matter that impacts the ability of individual(s) to obtain or maintain law enforcement licensure. Many revocation matters are revealed during the course of routine MCOLES standards compliance investigations. The issues in these investigations may include arrest and conviction of a criminal offense, use of fraudulent means to obtain law enforcement licensure, allegations of poor moral character, Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN) violations, positive drug screens, mental and emotional instability, problems with visual acuity or color vision, and disease or other medical problems that compromise a person's ability to perform law enforcement duties.

Each case that falls within MCOLES scope of authority is investigated thoroughly, and the accused officers are afforded full due process, specified under the Administrative Procedures Act of 1969.

It is significant to note, however, that MCOLES presently does not have authority to suspend or remove law enforcement licensure from individuals who are convicted of committing certain crimes involving behavior clearly in violation of public trust.

Since Public Act 237 of 1998 went into effect, MCOLES has initiated numerous standards compliance investigations. Some of these investigations were brief and did not result in further official action, yet a significant number were time consuming and required both travel and investigative expertise.

During 2010, in nine cases, active law enforcement licenses were revoked due to felony convictions. All revocation actions followed administrative proceedings through the State Office on Administrative Hearings and Rules (SOAHR).

In 2008, the Commission authorized the utilization of a form affidavit for use by local prosecuting attorneys in allowing a licensed law enforcement officer who had been criminally charged to voluntarily relinquish their law enforcement license as a condition of plea agreements. Generally, plea agreements are not coordinated with MCOLES license revocation efforts, but the Commission felt it necessary to structure such an agreement in a way that would not hinder the Commission's separate authority to revoke a license. The affidavit and agreement provides the officer's sworn statement that he or she voluntarily relinquishes their license for specific reasons that would legally justify revocation of the license by the Commission. Typically, the process comes as a part of the plea agreement negotiated between defense counsel and the prosecuting attorney in allowing the officer to plea to a lesser offense having been originally charged with a felony. The Commission acted on one voluntary relinquishment in 2010.

MCOLES has made significant progress in securing cooperation for reporting, and with tracking and sharing information regarding individuals who are unsuitable for law enforcement employment. It is significant to note, however, that MCOLES presently does not have authority to suspend or remove law enforcement licensure from individuals who are convicted of committing certain crimes involving behavior clearly in violation of public trust. Examples include felony charges that are reduced in plea agreements, and certain misdemeanors, wherein offensive behavior is evident that is beyond any sensible boundaries for a law enforcement officer. These cases may involve matters of assault, Internet child pornography, or sexual deviation, yet they are not subject to revocation under current law.

SERVICES ~ DELIVERED THROUGH PARTNERSHIPS

MCOLES standards reach the field through the collaborative efforts of the Commission and its partners.

Our partnerships include Michigan's law enforcement leadership, training providers, professional organizations representing the various concerns of law enforcement, and the various other components of the criminal justice system. Together, they form the Michigan criminal justice community, the participation of which is imperative to the identification and achievement of MCOLES goals.

Working in partnerships is the MCOLES strategy, yet MCOLES goals are developed with a focus on our clients.

MCOLES clients are the citizens of Michigan, law enforcement officers, and the other criminal justice professionals who serve our citizens. We recognize that law enforcement alone cannot create safe communities, yet the public correctly expects that its police officers and Michigan's criminal justice system will be able and willing to protect the public, to act on conditions that foster crime, and to respond effectively when a crime has been committed. In balance, the law enforcement officer, and other criminal justice professionals, deserve to be provided with the tools that enable them to carry out these difficult and sometimes dangerous tasks successfully and always with priority on safety. Ultimately, the criminal justice system cannot succeed unless its components each function correctly. The following graphic is representative of MCOLES services and the environment in which they are now developed and provided.

LICENSING OF PRIVATE SECURITY POLICE OFFICERS

Licensed under the Private Security Business and Security Alarm Act...private security police officers, employed by licensed agencies, have full arrest authority while in uniform, on duty, and on the property of their employer.

Public Act 473 of 2002 has produced an historic change in the manner of licensing for Michigan's private security police officers. This legislation became effective October 1, 2002. Prior to its enactment, private security agencies, private security guards, private investigators, private security police, and installers of alarm systems were licensed through the Michigan State Police. P.A. 473 places the bulk of these licensing functions with the Department of Labor and Economic Growth, with the exception of private security police officers. Licensing of Michigan's private security police officers is now administered by MCOLES.

Licensed under the Private Security Business and Security Alarm Act, Public Act 330 of 1968, private security police officers, employed by licensed agencies, have full arrest authority while in uniform, on duty, and on the property of their employer. Act 330 requires private security licensees to be at least 25 years of age.

Under Act 330, private security police officers must obtain 100 to 120 hours of training. The higher amount is required for private security police officers who intend to carry firearms. These personnel are also required to attend twelve hours of in-service training annually. Among the topics for which private security police officers must receive training are law, firearms, defensive tactics, critical incident management, emergency preparedness, patrol operations, and first aid.

Presently there are thirteen (13) agencies in Michigan that have private security police status. Each of these agencies employ from 20 to 200 private security police officers. They are:

- Lansing Public Schools
- Detroit Medical Center
- Henry Ford Health System
- Renaissance Center Management Co.
- University of Detroit Mercy
- St. John's Hospital and Medical Center
- Fairlane Town Center
- Schoolcraft College
- Spectrum Health

LICENSING OF RAILROAD POLICE OFFICERS

Commissioning and other requirements of railroad police officers in Michigan can be found in the Railroad Code of 1993, (P.A. 354 1993). Railroad police officers must meet the training and employment standards of law enforcement officers in accordance with Public Act 203 of 1965, as amended, the enabling legislation for MCOLES. Railroad police officers are employees of companies that own, lease, use, or operate any railroad in this state.

In addition to meeting the minimum MCOLES standards, law requires that the state police (responsibility assigned to MCOLES) must determine that the individual is suitable and qualified in order to issue a commission.

Every commissioned railroad police officer has statewide authority to enforce the laws of the state and the ordinances of local communities when engaged in the discharge of his or her duties as a railroad police officer for their employing company. Their authority is directly linked to the company's property, its cargo, employees, and passengers. Railroad police officers carry their authority beyond the company's property when enforcing or investigating violation of the law related to their railroad.

Every commissioned railroad police officer has statewide authority to enforce the laws of the state and the ordinances of local communities when engaged in the discharge of his or her duties as a railroad police officer for their employing company.

REGIONAL BASIC TRAINING ACADEMIES

The regional basic training program provides the Commission's mandatory basic police training curriculum through the approved training facilities. Qualified graduates are awarded law enforcement licensing by MCOLES upon meeting the remaining employment standards, achieving law enforcement employment, and being sworn into office. Regional basic training programs train recruits employed by law enforcement agencies, as well as eligible pre-service candidates who meet the college degree requirement upon completion of regional academy programs. The approved regional basic training locations typically run two sessions in a training year, unless hiring needs require additional approved sessions. The sessions last between seventeen and nineteen weeks on average. Of the 14 approved locations that deliver the regional basic training program, three locations train only their own employed recruits. The agency basic academies are the Michigan State Police Academy, Detroit Metropolitan Police Academy, and the Wayne County Sheriff Academy. The remaining 10 locations, which are geographically distributed through-out the state, train both employed recruits and eligible pre-service candidates. The pre-service college basic training programs offer mandatory basic police training in conjunction with a college degree program. Students entering these programs are guided through a college-designed curriculum, which allows a qualified graduate to be licensed as a law enforcement officer upon achieving law enforcement employment. The academic content of these programs includes designated courses that incorporate the entire MCOLES mandatory 594-hour curriculum. Students must achieve satisfactory grades in each pre-service program course within a one-year time limit and be awarded an associate degree or higher. MCOLES

MCOLES has developed examinations and performance levels to ensure that candidates possess sufficient physical fitness to undergo law enforcement training. Candidates who cannot achieve a passing score on these examinations would find it difficult, if not impossible, to complete the law enforcement training process. MCOLES also assesses candidates for basic reading skills.

All candidates entering law enforcement in Michigan must demonstrate proficiency on both the physical fitness and the reading and writing examinations. Previously licensed officers are not required to take these tests.

The MCOLES reading and writing test is designed to measure the writing skills and reading comprehension required for success in basic law enforcement training as well as on the law enforcement job. This test is administered in computer labs at approved sites across the state. Passing test scores for the reading and writing test remain valid without expiration. A letter grade accompanies the passing score, e.g., A, B, or C. This letter grade identifies the candidates' position among other test participants who passed the examination. The highest scoring group is identified with the letter "A," the middle group with the letter "B," and the lowest scoring group among those passing the test with the letter "C." The physical fitness test is designed to assess strength and aerobic capacity to ensure that candidates possess a minimum level of fitness necessary for success in training. The physical fitness test is the result of a three-year research effort, which was done in consultation with the Cooper Institute.

The MCOLES physical fitness standard serves as the first step in a comprehensive Health and Fitness Training Program. This program identifies initial candidate fitness levels, and then it provides both academic and physical instruction, teaching the candidate how to improve strength and aerobic capacity and how to develop a healthy life style within the environment of a stressful career. This program was developed under the banner, "Fit for Duty, Fit for Life."

Pre-enrollment physical fitness testing ensures that candidates possess sufficient conditioning to undergo the challenges of the fitness-training program. After completing both the cognitive and physical training, candidates again submit to physical fitness testing. They are expected to perform at a level that is greater than their entry-level performance.

The test events are the same for pre-enrollment testing as they are for the final physical fitness assessment. They are not equipment-dependent, and recruiters can pre-test pre-enrollment candidates early to assess their viability. The test events are:

- a maximum number of push-ups within sixty-seconds;
- a maximum number of sit-ups within sixty-seconds;
- a maximum height vertical jump; and
- a timed 1/2 mile shuttle run.

Push-ups are used to assess upper body strength, sit-ups reflect core body strength, and the vertical jump is a reliable indicator of lower body strength. Aerobic capacity is measured in the shuttle run. Trainers providing instruction in the MCOLES Health and Wellness Program have successfully completed an MCOLES "Train the Trainer" preparation course.

The physical fitness test must be taken within 180 days of entering academy training.

Applicants and agency administrators should be aware that the MCOLES pre-enrollment tests are administered only at MCOLES approved test centers. A testing schedule is available online at the MCOLES Web site. Other forms of testing or testing at non-approved sites will not satisfy these mandatory requirements.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR TRAINING AND EXPERIENCE PROGRAM

The recognition of prior training and experience program (RPTEP) is designed to facilitate the re-entry of persons into law enforcement who were previously licensed in Michigan and who have been separated from law enforcement employment longer than the time frames specified in Section 9 of Public Act 203 of 1965. Individuals who are licensed law enforcement officers in states other than Michigan may also utilize the RPTEP to gain Michigan law enforcement licensure status, providing they have successfully completed a basic police training academy program and functioned for a minimum of one year as a licensed law enforcement officer in their respective state. In addition, pre-service graduates of Michigan's mandatory basic police training program may also access the RPTEP to gain an additional year of eligibility for licensure, providing they have met all of MCOLES requirements for the first year of eligibility as prescribed by administrative rule.

Approved applicants for the RPTEP have the option of attending a week long program to assist them in preparing for the examinations, or they may elect to take the examinations without the assistance of this program. However, a pre-service candidate that has not become employed in their first year, is required to attend the program. The preparatory programs and examinations are scheduled for an entire calendar year with training opportunities presented approximately every five weeks and testing opportunities provided every two to three weeks. All approved RPTEP applicants must pass the MCOLES licensing examination and complete the firearms proficiency examination, which consists of qualification with a handgun, a shotgun, and patrol rifle. In addition, applicants must meet the existing first-aid requirements in order to earn licensure status.

After completing all examinations and first-aid requirements, applicants are eligible for licensure for a period of one year from the examination date. Upon employment with a Michigan law enforcement agency and verification that the applicant meets all MCOLES minimum selection and employment standards, law enforcement licensure is awarded. Enrollments in RPTEP are conducted at the two approved training facilities providing the program, listed below:

LAW ENFORCEMENT RESOURCE CENTER

Trainees benefiting from the Resource Center range from officers receiving roll-call training to officers attending formal presentations made in an academic setting.

With the expanded mission of MCOLES, the Law Enforcement Resource Center has enlarged its focus beyond law enforcement to serve as a repository for criminal justice training media. The Resource Center is available to law enforcement and criminal justice agencies throughout Michigan. All MCOLES licensed law enforcement officers, law enforcement training academies, and MCOLES approved criminal justice programs are eligible users.

Funding through Public Act 302, of 1982, has allowed the Resource Center to purchase instructional resources to support law enforcement training.

Trainees benefiting from the Resource Center range from officers receiving roll-call training to officers attending formal presentations made in an academic setting. Law enforcement patrons have ranged from the smallest police departments to centralized training facilities of the larger police departments. Colleges and universities also use the Resource Center to provide audio-visual programming for MCOLES approved in-service programs presented at these institutions.

The Resource Center has become an integral part of the support system for the criminal justice training delivery system in Michigan. Due to budget constraints at many law enforcement agencies, the Resource Center has become a valuable tool that enables them to receive training support materials that may otherwise be unavailable to them. Information and assistance can be found through the Center's link at the MCOLES Web site, www.michigan.gov/mcoles.

MCOLES WEB SITE: WWW.MICHIGAN.GOV/MCOLES

As our technology-driven environment continues to foster rapid change, individuals and organizations exchange increasing amounts of information. The Internet has multiplied possibilities for the movement of information and communications. The MCOLES Web site first went on-line in 1998.

Today, the MCOLES Web site offers convenient access to MCOLES organizational information, current events, newsletters, annual reports, and law enforcement job vacancies. It also provides Commission information, such as meeting dates, meeting minutes, and relevant statutes and rules.

The site also contains a directory of Michigan law enforcement agencies, approved basic training academies, links to other Web sites of interest, answers to frequently asked questions, and serves as the Web portal to the MCOLES Information and Tracking Network. Visitors to the site will find relevant information dealing with all aspects of MCOLES standards and training, and will be able to find information dealing with the various programs and services which MCOLES administers.

...the MCOLES Web site offers convenient access to MCOLES organizational information, resources, and current events...

The screenshot shows the MCOLES website homepage. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the MCOLES logo and the text "Michigan Commission on Law Enforcement Standards". Below this, there are links for "Michigan.gov Home", "MCOLES Home", "Site Map", and "Contact MCOLES". A secondary navigation bar includes "Printer Friendly", "Text Version", "Text Size", and "Share". The main content area features a "Welcome" message with the tagline "Serving the citizens of Michigan through the promotion of public safety since 1965...". It provides contact information: "106 W. Allegan, Suite 600, Lansing, Michigan 48909", "MAP to Hollister Building", "Telephone: 517-322-1417", "Executive Section FAX: 517-322-6439", and "www.michigan.gov/mcoles". There is also a "Mail" icon. The left sidebar contains a "Commission Information" menu with items like "News & Current Issues", "Online Services", "Standards & Training", "Programs & Services", "MCOLES Network", and "Justice Training Fund". Below the menu is a weather widget for Lansing, MI, showing "Fog/Mist 39.0 F (3.9 C)" and a "7 day forecast" section with a ZIP code input field. The right sidebar has a "Most Requested" section listing "Michigan Law Enforcement Job Postings", "Reading & Writing Test", "Physical Fitness Test", and "Licensing Exam".

THE MCOLES NETWORK

The MCOLES Information and Tracking Network is the Commission's integrated, Web-enabled database system designed to track the careers of Michigan law enforcement officers from basic training, employment, and in-service training on through separation from employment.

Information contained in this system is accessible 24 hours a day, seven days a week to MCOLES staff and authorized users employed by Michigan law enforcement agencies, MCOLES approved basic training academies, and registered in-service training providers. Significant benefits have been realized for both MCOLES constituents and staff with the implementation of the MCOLES Network.

- Automation of business processes to eliminate duplication of effort and provide direct user access to information and services.
- Distributed entry of application information, employment history record updates, personnel transactions, training, and other data by end users to facilitate the 'single entry' of data.

- Ability to conduct legally mandated reporting tasks on-line 24/7 from any constituency location.
- Automation of applications, reports, and other forms to allow the secure, electronic transmission of documents between MCOLES and its constituents.

Phase I of the MCOLES Network development was completed with full system implementation in 2004. Essential functionality was created to provide Web-based access to the user-specific modules listed below:

- Michigan law enforcement agencies utilize the system to comply with MCOLES mandated reporting requirements, such as employment transactions, annual verification of officer rosters, and the expenditure of Michigan justice training funds.

- MCOLES approved basic training academies set up academy sessions, enroll students, and submit completion transactions.
- In-service training providers register courses with MCOLES, identify course offerings, and submit attendance rosters which attach directly to officer records.
- In-Service training resources are also available to authorized users through the system and include a searchable training course registry of upcoming training events.
- On-line help and the ability to update the user-agency profile information are also provided.

Phase II development began immediately after implementation and continues as an ongoing process to improve existing functionality and add new features.

STOP VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN

Domestic violence is a long-standing criminal justice problem. Lack of knowledge of the causes and magnitude of domestic violence have limited the effectiveness of the law enforcement response to this dilemma. MCOLES has secured STOP grant funding since 1993 to improve the law enforcement response to domestic violence.

Domestic violence is little understood and the study of domestic violence is relatively new. Researchers now characterize domestic violence as a pattern of behavior that is learned and chosen by the abuser. Indeed, some social environments continue to tolerate, if not encourage, domestic violence.

Nationwide, the law enforcement response to domestic violence had suffered from a lack of both knowledge and resources. In 1994, the federal Violent Crime Control Act provided funding, administered by the United States Department of Justice, to deal with the problem under the STOP Violence Against Women Grant Program.

STOP grant funds provide technical assistance to Michigan law enforcement agencies for the development of domestic violence policy and for training active duty officers and recruits in the recognition and investigation of domestic violence. MCOLES has long sub-granted portions of these funds to the Michigan State Police and the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office for delivery of training to the criminal justice community. These funds provide statewide training of detectives, troopers, and other key criminal justice personnel.

MCOLES has continued an active partnership with the Michigan Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Board to combat domestic violence. Initiatives include the review and updating of curricula and domestic violence policy, as well as the administration of statewide domestic violence training for active duty law enforcement officers. Without STOP grant funding, our effectiveness in meeting the needs of victims of domestic violence, dating violence, and sexual assault would be significantly impacted. We continue to receive requests from the field for this training.

Nationwide, the law enforcement response to domestic violence had suffered from a lack of both knowledge and resources.

THE RESPONSE TO SEXUAL VICTIMIZATION

...we wanted to be sure that the training content was contemporary and that it accurately reflected the relevant tasks of the law enforcement profession in Michigan.

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA), also known as the federal stimulus program (HR 1-3, 2009), is an economic recovery plan, signed into law by President Obama, designed to improve the economy. Governor Granholm identified five key priorities for spending Michigan's share of the economic recovery dollars, which included a priority for Public Safety Programs. The public safety grant dollars for states and local governments were intended to support a broad range of activities to control crime and to improve the criminal justice system. The Michigan Domestic Violence Prevention and Treatment Board (MDVPTB) received ARRA funding through the Department of Human Services and allocated a portion of the funding to create statewide law enforcement training in the response to sexual assault.

The MDVPTB requested MCOLES' participation in creating sexual assault training. MCOLES, in partnership with the MDVPTB, provides statewide training in the law enforcement response to domestic violence, pursuant to the federal STOP program. The proposal from the MDVPTB was to use ARRA stimulus funds to support a similar program in the response to victims of sexual assault. MCOLES agreed to identify relevant content in the form of training objectives, write a training manual and facilitator guide for instructors, and offer training sessions statewide for active duty law enforcement officers and other first responders. The sexual assault training project began in early 2010.

At the outset of the project, we wanted to be sure that the training content was contemporary and that it accurately reflected the relevant tasks of the law enforcement profession in Michigan. Moreover, we wanted to be sure that the instructors would teach in an authentic, abilities-based environment, one that reflected real world context. Determining standardized training competencies for a profession is a high stakes endeavor. Training specifications must be valid and job related. Therefore, as part of an overall planning process for this project, we decided to use established internal protocols and procedures to guide our research activities. To create training materials, we:

- a) examined the relevant core job functions of law enforcement officers in Michigan;
- b) consulted with content experts and practitioners to identify best practices;
- c) linked project outcomes to the latest professional research in sexual victimization; and
- d) created a training delivery process that is logistically achievable statewide.

After a thorough examination of

Michigan's job task analysis of the patrol officer position, we facilitated an interactive meeting with content specialists in order to capture their ideas for training content. Using an interactive process can promote an effective and meaningful dialog among the requisite content specialists, who can offer relevant advice regarding best practices.

We also reviewed the professional literature to ensure that the training content would reflect the latest criminal justice research. We ultimately isolated important training issues, such as:

- a) myths and misconceptions;
- b) victim centered/offender-focused investigations;
- c) coordinated community responses; and
- d) victim believability and vulnerability.

Based on our research, we created an Instructor Manual for those selected to teach the class. The Instructor Manual is divided into five major sections. The opening section prescribes the module objectives, or the training specifications, for the course. We wrote the objectives in terms of behavioral outcomes, where basic knowledge and higher-order thinking are intended to come together to form competency. The second section provides concrete examples of interactive classroom training techniques that can be used by the instructors. We believe that the best way to deliver training content is by creating interaction and discussion in the learning environment. In order to build true competency, the overall goal should be to shape behavior, whether it be through training, policy, or experience. The next section is a model Facilitator Guide. This section is essentially the desired lesson plan for training delivery. The Guide is based on the student centered principles of adult learning theory and problem-based learning (PBL). We wanted the training content to be clear, relevant, and concrete. The next two sections contain PowerPoint slides and instructor supporting materials.

We believe that we have established valid training specifications in the response to sexual victimization and have identified viable training delivery methodologies for classroom instruction. This is based on a detailed exploration of the job task analysis, input from content specialists, and a review of the professional literature. Although the first 16-hour training session took place at Delta Community College in December, we continue to provide refinements and edits to the training materials, based on input from instructors and participants. Additional statewide training sessions have been scheduled for 2011. We hope to offer this training to law enforcement agencies across the state into the foreseeable future.

MCOLES PUSHES FOR IMPROVED ETHICS STANDARDS

It is fundamental that law enforcement leaders be able to assure their communities that their officers are ethical. Even unsubstantiated claims or the appearance of impropriety can undermine the most noble law enforcement intentions. Aside from preventive education, pre-employment screening and a fair reaction to ethical breaches by active officers are the front line of defense against the ethical deterioration of police officers. Neglect in either arena will inevitably lead to a decline in the quality of law enforcement service.

MCOLES, for years, has required good moral character of persons who seek to be licensed law enforcement officers in this state. The Michigan Administrative Code states, "A person selected to become a law enforcement officer shall possess good moral character as determined by a favorable comprehensive background investigation..." The use of background investigations to establish a candidate's moral character has met with a fair amount of success and is endorsed by the vast majority of Michigan law enforcement employers. That said, there are examples of background investigation failures, in which unfit candidates have entered law enforcement service and have become a liability to themselves and other officers.

Unfortunately, the same behavior that may exclude a new candidate from law enforcement employment does not automatically result in removal of the license of an incumbent officer. This occurs when an officer is convicted of a misdemeanor crime involving moral turpitude or wanton behavior. MCOLES is often sought out for solutions when expectations regarding an officer who has violated the public's trust are unmet.

For the past several years, MCOLES has been exploring ways to strengthen its role as a standards provider in producing and retaining ethical law enforcement officers. After several years of deliberation, the Commission has agreed to seek more encompassing ethical regulations which are shown on the following page. These considerations must be balanced against individual rights and collective bargaining agreements.

To this end MCOLES will seek the following:

- Develop a uniform background investigation protocol and a supporting manual for use by law enforcement agencies in the hiring process.
- Mandate background investigations whenever a law enforcement officer changes law enforcement employment.
- Encourage compliance by hiring agencies with administrative law that requires they conduct comprehensive background investigations.
- Encourage law enforcement employers to fully disclose substantiated instances of professional misconduct by current and former law enforcement employees, upon request of a prospective law enforcement employer.
- Require police academies to screen and evaluate candidates on good moral character grounds.
- Require law enforcement agencies to report criminal charges against officers to MCOLES.
- Allow revocation of law enforcement officers for criminal convictions that include fraud, perjury, theft, assault, substance abuse, and criminal sexual conduct as an element of the offense.
- Impose mandatory revocation for all felony convictions (crimes punishable by sentences exceeding two years) and for obtaining a law enforcement officer license by fraud or misrepresentation.

This initiative will require statutory changes that are expected as part of a planned overhaul of MCOLES enabling legislation.

MCOLES BUDGET FOR FY 2010

In May of 2009 Executive Order 2009-19 was issued to address the state's fiscal short fall in the state's Fiscal Year 2009 budget. This order immediately impacted the MCOLES in the 2009 fiscal year, but it also has had a more profound and lasting impact on the MCOLES budget. The order initially cut $600,000 from the MCOLES' Standards and Training appropriation which is funded with General Fund/General Purpose funds. The Standards and Training appropriation supports the Commission's standards, basic training, licensing, tracking and revocation responsibilities as mandated by Public Act 203 of 1965, as amended, as well as MCOLES staff.

To address the shortfall caused by this order a fundamental change to the Commission's appropriations was made by the legislature for the 2010 fiscal year. The Standards and Training appropriation was combined with the Justice Training Grants appropriation into a single appropriation. The Justice Training Grants appropriation was created by Public Act 302 of 1982 and is funded with state restricted funds collected through civil infraction fine assessments. The fund supports the Law Enforcement Distribution, the Michigan Justice Competitive Grants Program, and the administrative cost of implementing the requirements of the act.

The combined appropriation is funded with both state General Fund /General Purpose funds and state restricted funds.
