

Child Support in Michigan: Facts & Figures

County and state child support offices in Michigan provide services for more than 819,000 children and their families. Anyone can complete a form to request services from the Michigan Child Support Program. In 2023, all families who received cash assistance (Family Independence Program), food assistance, or Medicaid were required to cooperate with the program to establish paternity and child support orders if it is safe for them to do so. The program's mission is to achieve the well-being of children and self-sufficiency of families by delivering consistent, innovative and holistic services. These services promote healthy relationships between parents and children, ensure parents fulfill their financial obligations to their children and ensure families have access to all possible income sources.

By the numbers

Race and/or ethnicity data:

Race and/or ethnicity data is available for 89% of parents in the Michigan Child Support Program. About 46% are recorded as white, a third Black, with the rest made up of a variety of other races/ethnicities; the largest populations were Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander and Native American.

Program funding:

The federal government pays 66% of eligible state and county program expenses. The federal government also makes incentive payments to Michigan for its performance in five areas of the program, including disbursed collections. Michigan estimates it will receive approximately $25.8 million for fiscal year 2023. The federal performance incentives are shared between the counties and the state.

Collections and enforcement methods

- Income withholding. A total of nearly $930.9 million was collected by employers withholding child support from parents' paychecks.
- New hire reporting. Each month in 2023, employers reported an average of about 225,400 newly hired staff. New hire reporting provides information for child support location and enforcement efforts.
- Income tax refund intercepts. Through income tax refund intercepts, $84.5 million (6.8% of all collections) was collected. About 84% of intercepts were from federal refunds; 16% were from state refunds.
- Financial Institution Data Match. A total of nearly $10.6 million was collected by freezing or seizing financial assets.
- Other enforcement methods. Parents who do not comply with child support orders may also be denied approval or renewal of their passport, reported to a credit bureau, subject to a civil contempt proceeding or charged with a felony.

Service delivery

- The Michigan Child Support Enforcement System, Michigan's computer system, supports the work of 1,914 county and state workers in providing child support services.
- The Michigan State Disbursement Unit (MiSDU), Michigan's centralized collection and payment processor, disbursed approximately $112 million monthly.
- Approximately 48.9% of the collections are directly deposited into checking or savings accounts; 38.9% of collections are deposited on a Way2Go prepaid Mastercard.
- OCS child support specialists answer 6,800 calls on average each month, obtaining information for case initiation and providing parents with information about child support.
- On average, monthly visits to the MiChildSupport secure website exceeded 335,000 in FY2023. With more than 329,000 active users, parents have used this site to view their case information and apply for child support.
