Modalities

Sessions may take place in the following modalities and make-up sessions are encouraged:

- In-person
- Distance Learning (synchronous audio-visual or audio-only telemedicine): Lifestyle coaches deliver sessions where the coach is present in one location and participants are participating from another location. Claims for an audio-only session must include the appropriate procedure code, place of service code and modifier 93, and claims for an audio-visual session must include the appropriate procedure code, place of service code and modifier 95.
- Online: An asynchronous mode of delivery where participants log into course sessions via a computer, tablet or smartphone. Per Centers for Disease Control (CDC) requirements, MiDPP lifestyle coach interaction (in-person or via synchronous telemedicine) is required and must be no less than once per week during the first six months and once per month during the second six months.

Telemedicine and Modifiers

Refer to the Michigan Medicaid Telemedicine Fee schedule for the list of current codes acceptable for MiDPP telemedicine claims. Claims for an asynchronous session must include the appropriate procedure code and the following remark: "Service provided via an asynchronous telemedicine platform."

Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC), Rural Health Clinic (RHC), Tribal Health Center (THC) and Tribal FQHC Reimbursement

MiDPP services are reimbursed at the Medicaid Fee Screen reimbursement rate and are not eligible for the Prospective Payment System (PPS) or the All-Inclusive Rate (AIR). Claims for sessions are submitted on the professional claim form with NPI numbers specific to the clinic MiDPP provider and lifestyle coaches.
