

GROWTH MINDSET

Having a growth mindset means thriving on self-understanding. It means being open, curious and reflective. It's helpful to view emotions as just information. Try not to label emotions as bad or good or right or wrong. Instead, think to yourself, "I am a learner. What have I learned from my mistakes? What can I do better next time?"

