Implementation

What is implementation?

- Statewide education campaign
 - Community presentations
 - Brochures and other publications
 - Print an article in your publication
 - Ads in print and broadcast media around the state

What is implementation?

- State website:
 - www.michigan.gov/smokefreelaw
- Informational Line:
 - (866) 59-SMOKE

What is implementation?

- What are businesses required to do?
 - Beginning May 1, 2010, a person in charge of an establishment that is subject to the new smoke-free law must:
 - Post required no-smoking signs
 - Remove indoor ashtrays and other smoking receptacles
 - Direct any person who is smoking to extinguish the cigarette, cigar or other lighted item
- A compliance checklist is available on the smokefree law website.

Enforcement

How is it enforced?

- Enforcing agencies are:
 - State health department
 - State agriculture department
 - For food service establishments (bars and restaurants)
 - Local health departments
- Complaint-driven
 - Complaints will be investigated by the designated enforcement agency

How is it enforced?

- Complaints may be enforced by the local health departments and the Michigan Department of Community Health Tobacco Section
- Visit www.michigan.gov/smokefreelaw to find out how to file a complaint

How is it enforced?

- If someone is smoking
 - The owner or manager is required to ask them to stop
 - If they don't, the owner or manager is required to deny service and ask the individual to leave
 - If they still don't stop, follow your normal protocol for dealing with disruptive customers or clients

How is it enforced?

- If an establishment is allowing smoking
 - The local health department can be asked to investigate
 - If smoking persists, the health department can take further administrative action that could lead to fines, fees and shut down of that establishment

How is it enforced?

■ Violations

■ A fine can be levied

- A civil fine of not more than $100.00 for a first violation
- A civil fine of not more than $500.00 for a second or subsequent violation.

How is it enforced?

- Experience in other states is that citations and fines are uncommon
- People like the law and comply
- No smoking signs are required to be posted
- Signs will be available from the Michigan Department of Community Health website:
www.michigan.gov/smokefreelaw
