

Important MIHP Update- April 1, 2025

National Home Visiting Week

This year, the inaugural National Home Visiting Week will take place from April 21-25, 2025. This observance provides the opportunity to celebrate and recognize home visitors and the positive impact made on maternal and child health outcomes.

A toolkit is available, and we encourage providers to use these ideas to celebrate the home visitors you support. Toolkit resources include sample press releases, social media assets, and event ideas. We look forward to this exciting acknowledgment of the work that your team does each day to support families.

Thank you,
