Indiana Tech is a preferred education partner of the Michigan State Police.

- Current or retired troopers looking to pursue a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice will be able to transfer a maximum of 51 credit hours from their academy training toward the degree. They will also receive a scholarship equivalent to 20 percent of their tuition cost for the coursework required to complete the criminal justice degree or for a different degree altogether.
- Current or retired Michigan State Police staff members wanting to pursue a degree at Indiana Tech are also eligible to receive a scholarship equivalent to 20 percent of their tuition cost. In addition, all spouses, including the spouses of current and former troopers and retired staff members, are eligible for the scholarship, too.
- Textbook rental is included in the cost of tuition and books are shipped to students' homes prior to the start of class.

This scholarship can be applied to undergraduate- and graduate-level degrees, excluding Ph.D. It cannot be combined with an Indiana Tech Military Scholarship.
