Russia-Ukraine war gets personal for retired Oakridge High School teacher

When the Russia-Ukraine war escalated in late February 2022, retired Oakridge High School social studies teacher Bob Wood said he felt a sudden calling, an urge to do something.

"I was just, I don't know, I was sick. I was just like, 'OK. I'm going to get involved,'" the well-traveled 68-year-old said. "I spent the whole spring and summer fundraising for Ukraine. I didn't know anybody there. ... Wars are usually gray. This one's not gray."

Two years later, the Spring Lake resident and Michigan State University graduate is in deep.

Wood is just off his third semester teaching the English language with a social studies bent at 2,000-student Ukraine Catholic University in Lviv, Ukraine. He partners to raise awareness about the war. His classes and two groups he advises interact via Zoom with Grand Valley State University and Muskegon Community College students and the Hope Academy of Senior Professionals at Hope College.

He first visited in September 2022 not knowing a soul. During his six-week stay, he bumped into English professor Marta Demchyshyn and visited with her classrooms.

"I fell in love with the school and these kids. There's so much fire in their bellies," Wood said in an interview via WhatsApp from Lviv. "I know the baggage these kids carry. Whenever those sirens go off, that's hard for them. They're so resilient. They've got grit."

Wood's heart ablaze with supporting the people of Ukraine, his "Ask a Ukrainian" videos from October 2022 now tackle wider-ranging topics on his YouTube channel. Home this summer in west Michigan, Wood expects to again host "Conversations with Ukraine" talks with community groups and libraries until he returns next fall.

The single Kalamazoo native, who retired in 2021 after 37-plus years teaching, including a stint in Seattle, can't help people in Ukraine without his Michigan Public School Employees' Retirement System pension.

"I'm of use and they appreciate that. But they don't pay teachers well," Wood said. "While I make enough to cover where I'm staying, you've gotta have some income. So my public school pension is my income."

“We want you to be able to retire with dignity and the benefits you’ve earned after a career of public service.”

From the director

Welcome to your June 2024 issue of the Connections newsletter.

Our purpose at the Michigan Office of Retirement Services (ORS) is to empower you for a successful today and a secure tomorrow.

Our role is to be your trusted partner for your retirement goals and needs. Serving you responsibly is what we strive to achieve.

That’s why we are proud to share our recognition as Plan Sponsor of the Year in the Government Defined Contributions (with $1 billion or more in assets) category from PlanSponsor.

Awarded at the 2024 PlanSponsor National Conference on June 5, the honor centers on our eight-year-old Small Steps auto-escalation retirement savings program. The key achievement noted is plan participants who stayed in the program the past six years saw their average income replacement increase 33 percentage points.

This is our latest in a series of honors:

- ORS is one of eight organizations out of 1,764 to gain 2024 Best in Class 401(k) Plan honors from PlanSponsor.
- ORS earned the Public Pension Standards Award for funding and administration from the Public Pension Coordinating Council for the 21st consecutive year.
- For the 32nd consecutive year, ORS was awarded a Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting by the Government Finance Officers Association.
- ORS, with Voya Financial, received the 2023 Leadership Award for our Women & Retirement campaign from the National Association of Government Defined Contribution Administrators.

We want you to be able to retire with dignity and the benefits you’ve earned after a career of public service. What matters to us are the results for you: More of you are taking the actions today that can lead to a secure retirement in the future. One small step at a time.

Recently retired? Here are a few things to keep in mind

Congratulations on progressing to the next chapter of your life and making the significant decision to retire. Before you pack your bags and take off to explore the world, here are a few things to keep in mind that will contribute to a successful and fulfilling retirement journey.

- The Employee Benefits Division of the Michigan Civil Service Commission negotiates the carriers, coverage, and rates for retirees just as it does for active employees.
- For increased security, you'll use MiLogin to access miAccount. Once you log in, you can use miAccount Message Board to change your address, update your beneficiaries, get a 1099-R, and make other changes to your account. The Message Board is your secure link to a Michigan Office of Retirement Services (ORS) customer service representative.

- Email. ORS frequently uses email to communicate with retirees. Make sure your personal email address, and not one tied to your previous job, is on file in miAccount.
- Does Voya Financial manage your 401k or 457? Contact them when you need money from your account.

Spousal insurance audit continues

The Michigan Office of Retirement Services (ORS) is steadfast in its commitment to deliver exceptional healthcare services to our members. We also have a fiduciary responsibility to ensure those enrolled in health insurance through the retirement system remain eligible for coverage. One way we do this is to routinely conduct audits of our members to verify their ongoing eligibility for insurance coverage.

Please be on the lookout for a mailing from ORS indicating your account was selected for this audit. Failure to return a signed copy of the required form and necessary proofs could put your spouse's coverage at risk of cancellation. We appreciate your cooperation in this matter.

Rely on ORS, Voya for plan information

We often receive reports of unsolicited communications via mail, email, telephone, or in-person interactions about parties saying they are affiliated or endorsed by the Michigan Office of Retirement Services (ORS).

For instance, you might hear from financial planners and financial service firms asserting they have expertise on ORS benefits and options. While this may be true, we have only one financial partner at the State of Michigan.

ORS contracts with Voya Financial to administer and provide information on the State of Michigan 401(k) and 457 Plans (the Plans).

ORS does not have a relationship with nor do we have contracts with any other financial firm or party to provide information about your pension benefits and/or defined contribution plan savings.

All authorized ORS customer service representatives:

- Have access to your ORS account information, with the same details you get through miAccount.
- Do not sell financial services, investments, healthcare, or insurance products.

To contact ORS, call 800-381-5111 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Eastern time Monday through Friday (except holidays); or send a message via the miAccount Message Board.

To contact Voya, call the Plans Information Line at 800-748-6128 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Eastern time (except on New York Stock Exchange holidays) or use the live chat feature in your online Voya account.
