

If the word "any" is to be given its common and approved usage, it must be construed as meaning more than one. This gives effect to every word in the statute without reaching a nonsensical or strained result. If such a construction leads to abuse by taxpayers, the Legislature will have to remedy that situation when it arises. We can do no more than apply the statute as it is written.

Affirmed.

RESCINDED