

GOVERNOR GRETCHEN WHITMER

STANDING UP FOR THE LGBTQ+ COMMUNITY

LGBTQ+ Michiganders are an essential part of who we are, and make our state a better place to live and work. Members of our LGBTQ+ community deserve full protection under the law so they can be their authentic selves. Governor Whitmer has taken action to prohibit conversion therapy and strengthen protections against LGBTQ+ Michiganders in state employment. She also called on the legislature to expand the Elliot-Larsen Civil Rights Act to include sexual orientation, gender identity, and gender expression. We still have work to do to make Michigan a truly inclusive state. We must continue to fight to make sure LGBTQ+ individuals feel safe, valued, and know that their state will invest in their health and potential.

“Fighting for policies that pursue equality for Michigan’s LGBTQ+ community is more than just the right thing to do. It’s personal. It’s fighting for friends, members of my staff, and loved ones. From day one, my administration has been on the side of progress – and it will continue to be.”
